Knudsen, Famed Industrialist, Dies

Held Top Jobs With Car Firms

United U. S. War Industry

DETROIT — (AP) — William S. Knudsen, World War II coordinator of America's industrial might, died today following a long illness.

Death from a cerebral hemorrhage came to the 69-year-old former president of General Motors Corporation at 3:48 a. m. (EST).

The white-haired Danish immigrant was known by fellow industrialists as "the greatest production genius of modern times."

He gave up the presidency of General Motors, the country's largest producer of automobiles, in 1940 to head the mammoth rearmament program initiated by the late President Roosevelt.

Knudsen was commissioned a lieutenant - general, the only civilian ever to move directly to that high military office. He frequently admitted his embarrassment, remarking "I'm not a military man," he said; "my business is to make things."

Although the well-known automobile pioneer had been seriously ill for 16 months, death did not seem imminent until shortly after midnight, when he lost consciousness.

His wife, Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Knudsen, and their four children were called to his bedside.

It was believed an extended tour of the battlefronts during the closing months of hostilities was a serious drain on the energies of the industrialist.

Close associates said he never fully regained the vigor of the early war years when he directed the rearmament program.

ARRIVED IN 1899

Arriving here from Copenhagen in 1899, the young son of a Danish customs inspector went to work in a shipyard and as a shophand on the Erie railroad.

He soon found his way into the new automotive industry. By 1913 he had served as assistant manager of a Buffalo concern which later merged with the Ford Motor company, and then entered the Ford Detroit plant

Becoming a citizen in 1914, he directed the Ford boat-building activities in the first World War.

Knudsen joined General Motors in 1922. Soon he was named vice president of the Chevrolet division, and in 1937 became president of General Motors.

When he left General Motors to head the vast wartime program, Knudsen had a word of gratitude for his adopted country.

"This country . . it has been pretty good to me," he said. "I felt that it I could do something, I'd like to do it."

His army service as production "trouble shooter" won him the distinguished service medal and an Oakleaf cluster for "brilliant accomplishments."

"By his foresight and ability, he has not only saved this country millions of dollars, but by expediting production of critical weapons he has saved countless American lives," his citation read.

After the war he returned to General Motors briefly in an advisory capacity. Later he became chairman of the Hupp corporation, a former automobile concern that converted to the production of automobile parts and equipments.

Knudsen's body will lie in state at the W. R. Hamilton Funeral home through Wednesday. Final rites will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at the Peiphany Lutheran church.

Child Molester Sought By Police

Police today sought a middle-aged man who yesterday molested an 11-year-old Davey avenue girl.

The man called the girl to his parked car on Glessner avenue near Bartley avenue, she told her parents. She ran home and her father reported the incident to police. The only description the girl could give was that the man was in a black car.

Rail Strike Possibility Again Looms

Unions, Firms Fail to Agree

CHICAGO — (UP) — A union spokesman said that three railroad brotherhoods probably will break off negotiations today with the nation's carriers, setting the stage for a national strike.

The brotherhoods involved were those representing 150,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen. A work stoppage by them would halt almost all passenger and freight service through the country.

J. P. Shields, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, indicated that the unions probably will not set a strike date immediately, however.

Representatives of the unions and the railroads met again today but Shields said "I don't think negotiations will continue beyond today."

A 30-day cooling off period required by the National Railway act expired today, leaving the unions free to strike at any date they set.

"We may wait a day or so to set the strike date," Shields said. "It isn't necessary for us to set a strike date immediately and one day more or less won't make much difference now that we have the legal right to strike."

However, D. B. Robertson, president of the brotherhood of Firemen, said in Cleveland that if no settlement was reached today, a strike date "must be set" by midnight.

Robertson said the strike date was mandatory as a result of an agreement between general chairmen of the unions

Rob Bank Of Million

TEL AVIV—(UP)—Jews of the Sternist underground group today robbed Barclays bank, in the heart of Tel Aviv, of an estimated $1,000,000.

Dressed as Haganah military police, the Stern group gang overpowered Haganah guards in the bank, cordoned it off, forced the bank managers to turn over keys to the underground vaults, and fled with about 250,000 pounds sterling.

Not a shot was fired, and no one was seriously injured as the big robbery was smoothly carried out. The Haganah guards, taken by surprise by superior numbers of men wearing Haganah uniforms, were helpless to resist.

Managers of the bank announced they would close the Tel Aviv branch for an indefinite period

Reuther Case Arrest Made

DETROIT —(AP)— Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy said today a man under arrest by his officers resembles one supposed to have threatened to "take a shot" at Walter P. Reuther.

Toy did not identify the man. He said he would be viewed by two informants.

The two, also unnamed, told police they overheard a man threaten Reuther last November, shortly after the 40-year-old labor leader gained complete control of the CIO United Auto Workers.

FIRE LOSS $20,000

CINCINNATI —(AP)— A two-alarm fire in the downtown Cambridge building caused damage estimated at $20,000 last night.

Social Security Fund Cut

Shakeup Asked By Committee

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A shakeup in the Social Security administration and the U. S. Employment Service was ordered today by the House appropriations committee.

Slashing $20,673,000 off next funds for the Federal Security agency, the committee approved a $969,050,00 money bill to finance operations starting July 1.

The committee also added a provision barring use of the funds to government workers belonging to a union whose officers have not signed the non-communist oath required by the Taft-Hartley law.

This is the first time the fund-withholding weapon has been used to back up this section of the labor law. In a previous effort to attach an anti-racial discrimination provision to a money bill, the committee was overriden by the house.

DIRECTED BY AGENCY

The Social Security administration, which came in for the major fund trimming, is but one of the agencies under the overall direction of the Federal Security agency. The $969,050,000 recommended by the committee also would provide for operations of such other units as the public health service and the food and drug administration.

The bill includes these specific health and social welfare appropriations:

1. $1,000,000 for the public health service to train dentists and dental technicians in the new procedure for using sodium fluoride to check tooth decay.

2. $3,250,000 for research grants and scholarships to promote study of mental illnesses

3. $700,000 for an immediate survey of what the committee called "rather serious" health and sanitation conditions in Alaska.

Youth Claims Wandering Alligator

The lost alligator is back home.

John Massa, 135 Blymyer avenue, a 15-year-old News-Journal carrier, claimed the foot-long reptile that got into the news Sunday.

John Foulkes, 154 Blymyer avenue, found the alligator Saturday in the street near his home. A story in The News-Journal helped Foulkes find the owner.

Young Massa said he got the alligator from a firm in Louisiana and keeps it as a pet. Massa catches flies and bugs for it.

Movie Queen Honeymoons

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— Movie Queen Lana Turner was honeymooning at the Beverly Hills hotel today with the man for whom she was reported ready to give up her film career — multi-millionaire Henry J (Bob) Topping, jr.

The couple checked in last night at the swank Beverly Hills hotel following a lavish Hollywood wedding that attracted only a handful of invited guests but hundreds of movie fans.

While the uninvited swarmed outside the palatial Bel Air residence of trade paper publisher, W. R Wilkerson, who introduced the couple, those lucky enough to be invited to the reception drank champagne and ate pheasant at a spectacular terrace buffet.

Quadruplets Now All Dead

DETROIT —(INS)— The fourth member of the quadruplets born prematurely to a Detroit factory worker's wife died today while the mother envisioned her babies as thriving in their incubators at Providence hospital.

Attending physicians temporarily kept news of the deaths from the mother, Mrs. Anne Borg, although she was reported in satisfactory condition.

The quadruplets—Detroit's first—were born to the wife of Joseph Borg, a Ford Motor company pipefitter, yesterday.

Explains Stand on Lilienthal

Taft Backs 1-Year Atom Appointments

DAYTON—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said here today that he would support Senate confirmation of one year appointments to the atomic energy commission of David Lilienthal and other commission members.

Taft, at a press conference starting his final week tour to retain solid presidential support in Ohio, said that he believed the next President should have the opportunity to make his own appointments after the one-year terms expire.

"I haven't slightest objection to continuing their terms for one year," Taft said.

President Truman has renominated Lilienthal, former TVA head, and the other four members of the commission for terms ranging from one to five years. Lilienthal's appointment was sent to the Senate on a five-year recommendation.

Taft made the statements in replying to Harold E. Stassen's criticism.

Taft said he had no intention of bringing up on the floor of the Senate all the issues which created a hot debate when Lilienthal was first appointed. Taft had opposed that appointment.

'It is no desire for patronage, but I am doubtful if we should confirm long-term appointments," Taft said. "I am not trying to throw Lilienthal or anyone else out, but I do think that the next President should have a greater voice in choosing the men for these important posts."

Taber Raps Marshall

Wants Clean-up In Department

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Chairman Taber (R-N.Y.) of the House appropriations committee charged today in a blistering attack on Secretary of State Marshall that "subversive elements" in the state department are "working against the welfare of this country."

Taber reiterated his assertion that officials responsible for screening employes for loyalty and security "are not fitted for their jobs and are not protecting the interests of this country in these critical days." He added:

"So far as I know, little or nothing has been done to improve or correct this situation, either by Secretary Marshall or by his key subordinates."

Taber, in a statement said he could reveal that "as a direct result of our persistent probing and exposures" several of the "most dangerous security risks" have been fired from the state department.

He added that among those discharged was "one key employe of the international broadcasting division."

Nickel Given Short Sentence

NEW YORK—(AP)—William Arthur Nickel, former $64-a-week Linotype company employe, was sentenced to two and one-half to five years in prison for his part in a $784,000 swindle of the firm.

Kings county Judge Samuel Leibowitz imposed the same term on each of 202 counts of forgery and grand larceny

Akron Buses Start Again

AKRON —(INS)— Transportation returned to Akron today after 26 days in which residents were without buses

Machinists of the Akron Transportation company yesterday approved a wage increase and almost immediately returned to the company's garage to make buses ready for today's haul.

Members of the International Association of Machinists, an independent union, and the Transport Workers CIO-Local No. 1 both accepted a 15-cents hourly wage boost and ome concessions on other issues in the contract.

PRODUCE STRIKE ENDS

CINCINNATI —(AP)— A strike against 54 produce commission houses ended last night.

Pleads Guilty; Judge Says 'No'

Object Lesson In Justice

John C. Ward, 46 Tobey court, learned from Municipal Court Judge H. H. Schettler today the meaning of true justice.

Ward pleaded guilty in municipal court to a charge of intoxication, but when the judge questioned him concerning the details of the case, he said he had not been drinking.

"But then why did you plead guilty?" the judge queried.

"I knew I'd have to pay something so I thought I'd get it over with." Ward drawled.

"You don't have a high regard for justice," Judge Schettler countered, and said he was changing Ward's plea to not guilty.

The judge conferred with the arresting officer and then ordered the case dismissed.

Absentee Voting Heavy

Number Cast Tops Since '44

The Richland county board of elections had received 27 absentee ballots today — a number higher than during any of the last three primaries.

But the number was far below the 1944 primary, also a presidential year, when 99 absentee ballots were cast—mostly by soldiers and sailors. Several thousand Richland county men were in service that year.

Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler reported that six absentee ballots had not yet been returned.

The deadline for absentee voters to cast their ballots in person is 6:30 p. m. Thursday. Absentee ballots sent by mail must reach board offices by Friday noon.

Six absentee ballots were cast in the 1947 primary, five in 1946, and 16 in 1945.

Voters who come under the absent voter classification include those qualified but who will be unavoidably absent from Richland county on primary day, students away at school, soldiers and sailors, and disabled voters who cannot travel on primary day, next Tuesday.

Cancer Fund Hits $2,935

Only 13 Per Cent of Goal Collected

With only four days left before the official closing of its drive, less than 13 per cent of the Mansfield cancer fund campaign goal of $24,000 was reported collected at noon today.

Richard Wolford, campaign chairman, reported that so far $2,935 has been collected by campaign workers.

He has warned that unless more money is collected, the cancer clinic might be forced to close because of insufficient funds.

This current campaign is not affiliated with the National Cancer fund which solicited funds recently. Contributions should be sent to the Mansfield YMCA, not to national headquarters, Wolford said.

Two Killed In Skirmish

ROME—(AP)—A brief but bloody border skirmish last night highlighted for Italians today the expected coming struggle for Trieste.

An Italian soldier and a Yugoslav officer are dead, three other Italian soldiers—one reported dying—are in a hospital as a result of a shooting scrape between Italian and Yugoslav border patrols near the village of Rauna di Luico, northwest of the free territory, in Venzia Giulia

Italian officials said the Yugoslavs had moved a border marker near the village and stood on ground which the commander though still was Italian.

Shots rattled out from a Yugoslav machinegun, the Italians said. They returned the fire. A Yugoslav officer and an Italian soldier fell dead. Three other Italian soldiers were hit.

The Italians said they withdrew when 70 Yugoslav soldiers came charging down a hill on the 18-man Italian patrol.

First Bonus Checks Ready

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Tomorrow is M-day for Ohio veterans of World War II.

M-day is mailing day, when the first 1,930 bonus checks go into the mail. The 1,724 checks to army veterans will total $584,537; the 206 navy checks will add up to $61,620 for a total of $646,157.

That's just M-day's total. When the final check is mailed at some day far in the future, an estimated 800,000 veterans will have received more than 250 million dollars from a grateful Buckeye state.

Baby Seen Floating In Lake

ST. MARYS—(INS)—Eighteen-month-old Stafford Mader was none the worse for wear today despite his narrow squeak with death.

Statford was found floating on the surface of Lake St. Marys after he wandered away from his mother.

Two men, Corben Schell and Paul Fishpaw, were credited with saving the youngster's life. Schell spotted the boy and brought him to shore where Paul Fishpaw revived him by artificial respiration.

Mansfield Gets Relief From Heat

Mercury Dips After 85-Degree High

Mansfielders, who sweltered in the 85-degree heat yesterday, were given welcome relief from the unseasonal warmth today as the mercury dropped to a more comfortable 74 at noon.

The slight drop, weathermen said, is a prelude to cooler temperatures Wednesday and Thursday. The extended forecast, predicting temperatures four to six degrees above normal, has a return of the warm spell chalked up for Friday and Saturday with intermittent rain and thunderstorms scheduled.

Although summer is officially 55 days away, Ohioans perspired yesterday in the hottest April weather in years. At a busy downtown intersection in Columbus, a thermometer hit an even 100 degrees in the sun.

Sections of Mansfield got a heavy shower last night and a lighter one this morning, but the weather station at the Mansfield airport reported no rainfall there.

As temperatures dropped back to more normal readings, forecasters had cooling news that a cold front would move into the state from the Mississippi valley tonight.

Lower temperatures seemed general throughout sun-baked Ohio today. Cincinnati reported 72 degrees today after recording an official 84 yesterday. Cleveland's reading this morning was 61, 26 degrees lower than yesterday's 87-degree high.

Workers Respect No-Strike Pledge

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The CIO Steelworkers Union stood by its no-strike pledge today but disagreed with Republic Steel corporation's arguments for turning down a wage increase.

Republic followed the lead of U. S. Steel corporation late yesterday in rejecting the union's demands for a "substantial" wage increase.

Invasion Reported Imminent

British Deny Drive's Begun

(By United Press)

The Arabs were ready today to make their big move against the Jews in Palestine.

Reports from capitals of the Arab nations surrounding the Holy Land indicated that regular forces of these states—as contrasted with the Arab volunteers who previously have entered Palestine—are on the move.

Beirut quoted authoritative Transjordan sources as saying that King Abdullah, best prepared of any of the Arab chieftains, had begun an invasion of Palestine.

Cairo said that two trainloads of Egyptian infantry left for an "unknown destination," presumably Palestine.

Baghdad said that 8,000 Iraqi troops, with planes, had left for Transjordan to enter Palestine.

London denied that any organized Arab forces had entered the Holy Land, and said organized Arab invasion before May 15 would be resisted by the British.

But the swiftly withdrawing British already had abandoned control of an estimated 90 per cent of Palestine. Even if their remaining forces wanted to block an Arab move, there was doubt that they could do so. Abdullah's powerful little Arab legion—15,000 to 20,000 men—is British-trained, British-equipped, and British-officered.

LEGION STRONGEST

The legion presumably would be the strongest Arab force to enter Palestine fighting. The Beirut report made it sound as if Abdullah were only now taking his forces into the Holy Land, but this was not true. Most of the Arab legion's strength already has entered Palestine, with British approval.

The first major fighting in an Arab invasion, it appeared, would be a concerted attack on Jerusalem. The Holy City's 100,000 Jews are dependent upon the single road from Tel Aviv for all supplies. Arabs surround the city.

They have cut the Tel Aviv life-line repeatedly. Few British troops are left in Jerusalem. The city seemed likely to be a fairly ripe plum for any major Arab force.

Along the coastal plain, from Haifa to Tel Aviv, the Jewish position is stronger. They seized Haifa, taking the Arabs by surprise. And with what supplies and reinforcements they may receive by sea, they would be difficult to dislodge. Yet Haifa, the port which also has supplied Transjordan, must be one of Abdullah's main objectives.

Two Britons were killed in Jerusalem today, as tension increased over the threatened invasion.

Capt R. B Leggett retired British naval officer, who came to Palestine last week to accept a consular appointment when the mandate ends, was shot by Arabs near Barclay's bank in the heart of the city.

B. O. Denham, a British public works official was shot dead by unidentified assailants this morning near the Jerusalem Sports club.

BATTLE FOR PALESTINE—Trans-Jordan Arab legion was reported today ready to move (arrow—1) into Palestine. A major Arab-Jewish battle for Jerusalem (2) apparently was shaping up while Jews attacked from Tel Aviv into Jaffa (3). Oil sources said the Iraq-Haifa oil line (4) had been shut down since Jews took Haifa. British sources drove off Jews attacking Acre (5). In Damascus (6), strikers demanding the Arab regular army be sent into Palestine tied up business and transportation.—(AP Wirephoto Map)

Inflamed Suspicions Aroused By Soft Prosecution of CIO

Coming soon after the Petrillo case in the federal court in Chicago, the government's soft prosecution of the CIO and Philip Murray, its president, under the Taft-Hartley law, inflamed suspicions already aroused. An earlier case, an unmitigated mockery, was the Joe Fay thing in Newark, N. J. The Petrillo and CIO-Murray trials were sorry exhibitions, but, for all that can be proved to the contrary, the department of justice did its poor best.

In the Fay job, however, we do know that we are dealing with a honey because the very day after Joe Fay was acquitted on an income tax fraud of which he was flagrantly guilty, Tom Clark, the attorney general, admitted that the conduct of his department had been just too raw.

It was, he said, "a—damned outrage," but he never fired, laid off or rebuked anyone concerned in the outrage. Other—"—damned outrages" have ensued in that same notorious federal district.

Petrillo was prosecuted under the Lea act, a special law designed to stop outrageous extortions by the musicians' union through the featherbedding process. All the department of justice had to do was show that Petrillo had called a strike against station WAAF in Chicago to enforce a demand for the hiring of three unnecessary employees, classed as librarians. Before the trial he was quoted as having admitted that he had deliberately violated the law with the purpose of testing its constitutionality. The government did prove that Petrillo demanded that the company hire the three librarians and pulled out on strike the three already employed when the company refused to obey.

But Judge Walter F. LaBuy ruled that the government had failed to show that the employer had notified Petrillo that it did not need the three additional librarians. It just never entered Petrillo's mind that these three would be unnecessary and it wasn't his fault that the company failed to tell him so.

Judges have latitude and discretion. These things are not supposed to be mere contests of wit and skill between lawyers. They are intended to be fact-finding inquiries in the interests of justice, law, order and the general welfare of the republic.

A judge isn't tongue-tied by rules. If he thinks either side is deliberately or stupidly kicking a case around, he can butt in and ask questions himself.

Only a very credulous Chicago judge could believe that Petrillo didn't know the requirements of the radio station. His featherbedding practices were so notorious that they were cited in the supreme court's opinion in the teamsters' racketeer case as justification for highway robbery practiced in the guise of legitimate relations between employe and employer.

Judge La Buy is a Chicago Democratic politician long concerned in the councils and works of the Ed Kelly chapter of the party of humanity. Petrillo is an old regular in the same lodge. As was the case in Newark when Fay was acquitted, judge, defendant and prosecutor were members of the same political ring and proteges of the same patron.

★

Coming now to the Taft-Hartley case against the CIO and Murray, we observe more interesting signs. To try this case, there appeared in the District of Columbia a guest judge from Charleston, W. Va., the Hon. Ben Moore, a new dealer appointed in 1941. He had long been known as a "pro-labor" politician and lawyer. He had been also a law partner for a long time in a firm which did the law business of district 13 of the United Mine Workers. His senior in the firm was T. C. Townsend, who recently appeared in the Lewis contempt case in Washington, D. C., as attorney of record for the UMW and for John L. Lewis both individually and as president of the UMW.

Tomorrow I shall discuss Judge Moore's strange reticence concerning his old association with Townsend and his law firm.

Educators Get Data On Lighting

400 From 2 States Expected at Session

Educators from all sections of Ohio and West Virginia will attend a district school lighting conference at John Simpson junior high school tomorrow.

Designed to provide the latest data on school lighting to educators and school architects, the conference is being held in Mansfield because of its strategic location.

The 400 delegates will hear talks by men prominent in various phases of school lighting and will examine two special classrooms at Simpson junior high school which have been designed to incorporate the latest techniques in school room construction.

The school men will hear talks by Dr. N. E. Viles, U. S. department of education; E. J. Arnold, Ohio state department of education; Dr. Samuel Renshaw, psychology department, Ohio State university; James M. Ketch, illuminating engineer, Cleveland; Dr. Dean F. Smiley, American Medical association; and Dr. D. B. Harmon, executive director of the Texas Inter-Professional commission, Child Development.

In written invitations, Mansfield Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller said "the results of this conference can well have an important bearing on the education progress, the vision and even the physical well-being of students."

Truck Crash Hurts Two

A two-truck collision early today north of Ashland sent a London couple to Ashland Samaritan hospital for treatment and a Chester resident to court on charges of unsafe operation.

Injured when their parked carnival truck was struck were Roy Foss, 67, employe of the Curl Carnival Shows at London, and his wife, Ethel, 58.

Both were treated for head cuts, bruises and shock at the Ashland hospital and released.

Albert Parker of Chester was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace Betty G. Bennighof of Ashland. He told state highway patrolmen he fell asleep at the wheel of his truck.

Patrolmen said the mishap occurred at 3:15 a. m., six miles north of Ashland on U. S. Route 42.

W. F. Spencer Dies at 68

Walter Frederick Spencer, 68, of 637 West Fourth street, died early today in a Columbus hospital after a lingering illness.

Born in Hayesville, Sept. 25, 1879, Mr. Spencer lived in this area all his life. He was a member of Mansfield Lodge No. 35, F. & A. M., for more than 40 years and the St. John's Evangelical church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anna C. Otto Spencer; a daughter, Carol Anne, student at Ohio State university; one son, W. William, at home, and two brothers, Park of Cleveland and Wesley of Alliance.

Private funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 11 a. m., at the Finefrock funeral home by Rev. John C. Melchert of St. John's church. Burial will be in Memorial Park. The family requested that flowers be omitted.

200 'Home Makers' At Achievement Day

More than 200 Richland county farm women were advised today to call themselves "home makers," "instead of housewives."

Miss Beth Peterson, home economist for the E. I. du Pont de Nemours company of Wilmington, Del., told them "home making is one of the most important professions in the world."

She was the principal speaker at an all-day Achievement Day program at Pleasant Valley Baptist church on Route 13, north of Mansfield.

Pointing out that women spend 85 per cent of the money in the United States, Miss Petterson said that in their spending "women are doing research work." By their purchases, the women evaluate new products, she explained.

Representatives of 22 county home demonstration councils were present. An apron parade, with a dozen women displaying the aprons they have made, was a planned feature for the afternoon.

The parade was arranged to show construction and materials that had been studied previously in demonstration groups.

Mrs. Franklin Clever was chairman for the program, which opened with group singing and a solo by Mrs. W. D. Baughman.

Women of the Pleasant Valley church arranged the luncheon for which 212 women made reservations.

The speaker scheduled for the afternoon session was Dr. Edwin A. Fensch, director of research for Mansfield public schools. Other features included a program by the Shiloh Mother Singers, and a reading by Mrs. Clare Algire.

Miss Mabel Spray, home demonstration agent, reported on the activities of the council during the past season.

'Sweet Shop' Operetta Set For Friday

Grade school students of Springfiled township school will present an operetta, "The Sweet Shop," Friday at 8 p. m. at the school in Ontario.

The cast includes representatives from al grades except the first. Helen Buchanan of the fourth grade will play the part of Penelope Patient, proprietress of the shop. Bertram, an old bill poster, will be played by James Ballitch of the fifth grade.

Scouts Get Instruction

Seven Mansfield professional men and women have volunteered to provide practical instruction on personal health and good grooming which will win badges in these fields for Girl Scouts of Troop 22 next month.

Mrs. Charles F. Orr, leader of the troop, said today the troop completed its work last night when members were guests of the Rhea Doolittle Beauty Salon, 112 Blymyer avenue. There, the girls were instructed in shampooing, setting the hair and manicuring the nails. Instruction was given by Miss Doolittle and Mrs. R. W. Harrington.

First work on the badges was done at the city health department where Miss Marjorie Palmer, city health nurse, gave each Scout a health examination and explained the various health services offered by the department to the city.

Correct habits on posture, exercise and diet were explained by Mrs. Zora Weimer at the Weimer Figure Perfection studio. Care of the hair and skin were learned at the Minnick Beauty school.

Dr. William Riester, Mansfield chiropodist, talked to the troop on the proper care of the feet and correct shoes for various activities. At another meeting, Mrs. Julia Hartman English, oral hygienist, told the group the importance of attractive teeth, and Mrs. W. C. Fort, registered nurse, helped the troop plan a cold prevention campaign.

Badges for work in the two fields will be awarded to Scouts at a special court of awards to be held at a Scout-Parent supper May 17 at Richland Recreation.

Money Missing

Theft of $119 in silver and currency was reported to sheriff's deputies late yesterday by John W. Pry, State Route 39, west of Shelby. Pry told deputies the money was taken from his bedroom between 4 and 5 p. m. by burglars who entered his unlocked home. Included in the loot was $80 in dimes, $3 in assorted silver and $36 in currency.

Greer Trial Due to Open

Three-Judge Court Will Hear Case

The case of Clarence Greer, 31, who has enter a plea of guilty to first degree murder, will be heard tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. in common pleas court.

His case will be heard by a three-judge court consisting of Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, Clarence U. Ahl of Bucyrus and Ralph Sugrue of Tiffin.

Greer was indicted in the double shotgun slaying of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31 and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 33, on Feb. 9, in Greer's East Fourth street house, where they were tenants.

Attorneys for Greer are H. Eugene Ryan and Jacob Wagenahals.

Nurse Dies At Home Here

Miss Beatrice Alberta Harris, for many years a nurse associated with Dr. Adda Liffring of 104 West Second street, died at Dr. Liffring's home yesterday following a lingering illness.

Miss Harris was born in Richland county, and as a girl trained at the Lutheran Mother House in Baltimore to become a deaconess. She took a nurse's training at the Lankinaw hospital in Philadelphia and served as deaconess nurse of the Lutheran church of Louisville, Ky. She was superintendent of the Lutheran orphanage at Nachausa, Ill., for four years. Miss Harris gave up her deaconess work to come to Mansfield to care for her mother and do private nursing.

She was a sister of the late Rev. W. B. C. Harris and a member of the First English Lutheran church here.

Surviving are a niece, Ethel Howard, and a nephew, Lewis T. Christman, both of Galion.

The body is at the Jones Memorial where friends may call. Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, will conduct services there at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

CLINIC SCHEDULED

A well-baby clinic will be held Wednesday at the health department clinic at the city building, Dr. A. C. Biddle, acting health commissioner, said today.

MEETS WEDNESDAY

The Joint Veterans committee will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the AVC club rooms on North Main street.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

The News-Journal extends greetings to Avery C. Hand sr., 619 Austin road, who is celebrating his fifty-ninth birthday today. The celebration will be a quiet one at the Hand home tonight with only the immediate family present. Hand, who has lived in Mansfield all his life, is the president of the Tracy and Avery company and the Citizens Savings and Loan company, and a director of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank. He is a Knight Templar and serves on the executive committee of the Boy Scouts. He takes a keen interest in high school and college athletics and spends much of his leisure time reading historical novels. In the summer he takes trips on his power cruiser.

'LUCKY' FLIES

"Lucky" Hawk, Mansfield's motorcycle-riding canine, has switched to air travel. "Lucky" took his first ride Sunday with Harold Beeth of Galion. Given moral support by his motorcycle "chauffeur," Leland (Bud) Koppert, the year-old cocker spaniel was reportedly pretty shaky after his first trip into the skies. But "Lucky" enjoyed the second flight immensely, poking his head out of the window and keeping his tail wagging constantly. "Lucky" is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Hawk, 318 Park avenue west.

WATCHING PROGRESS—

Every evening Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gimbel drive around the site on North Mulberry street where masons are working on the new Friendly House building. "Right now they're pouring cement footers and we're hoping that this nice weather keeps up so they can go right along with the building," Mrs. Gimbel said. "We certainly do need it badly." The new building is being erected by the Simon Small and sons company.

Failure to Yield Costs Driver $10

James Gee, Mansfield R. D. 2, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court today for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Aden J. Abernathy, Clovis, N. M., was fined $5 and costs for failing to display dealer's license plates. George W. Blessing was fined $10 and costs for unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Milton Morkel, 96 West Second street, pleaded innocent to assault and battery charges brought by Leola Smith, 94 West Second street. The case was continued until Friday.

P-TA to Hold Party

The Mansfield Parent-Teacher Council's "surprise party" will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in John Simpson gymnasium. All attending are reminded to bring a box lunch and a friend.

Driver Denies Blame

Motorist Cited In Fatal Mishap

Ted H. Pemberton, Lorain, pleaded innocent to a charge of second-degree manslaughter in municipal court today, waived preliminary examination and was bound to the county grand jury under $1,000 bond.

Pemberton was the driver of one of the cars in the two-car collision Saturday night that resulted in the death of Denzil Holt, 19, of Cincinnati.

Arraigned in court yesterday on charges of improper passing at an intersection, Pemberton, a Lorain steel worker, was found guilty and fined $25 and costs.

The law defines second-degree manslaughter as the killing of a person while in violation of a state traffic law and carries a penalty of a fine not to exceed $500, or 30 days to six months in jail, or one to 20 years in the penitentiary.

WAIVES EXAMINATION

No testimony was heard today as Pemberton, still unrepresented by counsel, waived preliminary examination.

Holt died of shock Saturday night after he was thrown from the car Pemberton was driving. Pemberton attempted to pass a car driven by Steve Roseberry, 120 North Adams street, as Roseberry was making a left turn on U. S. Route 42, three miles south of the city.

Pemberton's car sideswiped Roseberry's auto, jumped a culvert and left the highway. Holt was thrown from the car into a ditch. Neither Roseberry nor his wife was injured in the collision, but two of three other men riding with Pemberton suffered minor injuries.

Girl, 3, Hurt By Automobile

Three-year-old Ruth Ann Day, 223 North Franklin avenue, suffered minor injuries yesterday when she was struck by a car driven by John S. Aungst, Fairfax avenue.

Police said the child suffered abrasions of the left elbow, right side of her face and her left leg.

Aungst told officers the child ran from behind a parked truck in front of her home and that he tried to stop before hitting the child.

The child was treated by a physician. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Day of the North Franklin address.

Bellville Man Faces Charge

Ramon B. Jones of Bellville who admitted to police yesterday he didn't keep his mind on his driving will answer unsafe operation charges in municipal court Saturday.

Jones was arrested by officers after his car was in a collision at Marion and Cline avenues with one driven by Frank L. Logan, 176 West Fifth street. Both cars were damaged.

Jones was quoted by officers as saying he "was thinking of something else besides driving and did not stop" at the intersection.

Bakery Reports Theft of Truck

Police today were looking for a 1947 black Dodge truck, with license 4-FG-73, reported stolen from the Mansfield Bakery, rear 220 North Main street.

Gus Chokreff, owner of the bakery, reported the theft yesterday. Chokreff said the truck was driven away from the bakery Sunday morning but he thought one of the drivers had taken it.

Brownies Entertain Mothers At First Birthday Party

A combined troop first birthday party and Mothers' Day celebration wsa observed yesterday by Brownies of Carpenter school as they received their mothers in the Girl Scout room at the school.

Three teachers, Mrs. John Thoms, Mrs. Carrie Yohn and Mrs. Donald Beaver, were present as guests. Attending from the Mansfield Girl Scout office was Miss Margaret Rooney, executive director.

As each mother arrived, she was presented with a corsage of spring flowers made by the Brownies. Tea was served from a long table, decorated with yellow flowers and green tapers. Miss Rooney presided.

Mothers and daughters were seated at individual tables decorated with a wooden statuette of a Brownie scout, surrounded by spring flowers.

Included in the program were piano solos by Gail Kershaw, Cheryl Martin and Carol Neil; a tap dance by Janet Fox, vocal solo by Janet Nahaf; an acrobatic dance by Georgia Mae Hart and clarinet solo by Betsy Salsbury.

The program closed with the presentation of rosettes to each Brownie by Mrs. Hart and the presentation of plants to each mother. The plants were grown by the Brownies for their mothers.

7 Homers Included In 37 Safeties

CHICAGO — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians are looking for a statistician today as well as for another starting pitcher.

When the final count of yesterday's wild affair against the White Sox in Chicago was completed, the tally read: 23 runs, 37 hits, 11 pitchers, 14 innings, seven home runs.

A million thrills, chills and laughs.

The nice thing about it all, as far as Cleveland fans are concerned, is that the Tribe finally came out on top, 12-11, after four hours and 14 minutes of baseball that has few parallels.

SNARE HONORS

Manager Lou Boudreau, First Baseman Eddie Robinson, relief Pitchers Russ Christopher and Bob Feller, Third Baseman Ken Keltner and Right Fielder Larry Doby snared the major share of Cleveland honors in the victory.

Don Black started the extravaganza for the Tribe but was yanked in the third after the Sox had banged across a total of five runs, including four-basers by Tony Lupien and Cass Michaels. Les Webber took over and was promptly greeted by another round-tripper by Dave Philley with one man aboard.

The Indians had pushed across two runs in the first and second innings and one in the third, with Doby's homer the loud blow.

EQUALS RECORD

In the fourth, the Indians, who have now won five straight to tie a Cleveland record of five victories in the first five games set back in 1922, pushed across three more when Boudreau tripled, Robinson slammed the first of his two homers and Keltner followed with another.

The undaunted Sox jumped right back into the lead in their half of the inning with two more runs that chased Webber and brought in Bob Kennedy, rookie left-hander, to put a temporary stop to the attack.

The Indians tied it up again in the fifth when Boudreau tripled again with Doby on base. The ace shortstop-manager collected a total of five hits in six trips to the plate for the day.

Chicago scored two more in their half of the fifth and the count stood at 11-9 in their favor until the top half of the ninth inning.

THREE IN NINTH

In a bit of managerial see-saw, three pitchers went to the hill for the White Sox in the ninth but the strategy back-fired when Boudreau cracked a double off Earl Caldwell to score Thurman Tucker and Dale Mitchell, who batted for Ed Klieman, handling the pitching chores at that time.

The contest was broken up in the 14th frame when Robinson poled his second home run, but not before a hectic last half when Feller came in to relieve Christopher. With two men on base, Feller struck out two and forced the third to fly out.

Howard Judson started for Chicago, and was followed by Glenn Moulder, Jim Goodwin and Caldwell, who was nicked for the loss.

Steve Gromek also got into the act for the Indians but the victory was credited to Christopher.

Bob Lemon was Boudreau's choice for today's tilt with the Sox who are countering with Bill Wight, rookie left-hander.

Giants Get Good Pitching, Defeat Philadelphia, 5 to 1

By JOE REICHLER, AP Sports Writer

It may be only a flash in the pan, but the New York Giants appear to have finally found that missing link—strong pitching—which, added to their terrific batting power, can make them the most feared outfit in baseball.

Combining the two yesterday, the Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phils, 5-1, for their fifth straight. They now enjoy a game and a half first place lead in the National league pennant race.

The surprising part of the Giants' surge, naturally, has been their airtight pitching. And to make it all the more confusing, it has come from the most unexpected sources.

KOSLO ALLOWS 7

Take yesterday's masterful hurling by southpaw Dave Koslo. Manager Mel Ott had no assurance that Koslo would go the route, let alone pitch a seven-hitter and a near-shut-out.

Sunday the Giants got two splendidly pitched games out of old Bobo Newsom and rookie Sheldon Jones. Ace Larry Jansen showed well in his first outing and Ray Poat has a five-hitter to his credit. All of which has combined to put the Giants into the lead.

Not to be outdone by Koslo yesterday, the Giants' power hitters slammed starter Schoolboy Rowe and his two successors for eight hits, five of which went for extra bases. Sid Gorman cracked a home run, the club's 10th in eight games.

STANKY SPARKS

Eddie Stanky, in his first crack against his former Dodger teammates, slammed a triple and single and drew a walk in four times at bat to lead the Braves to a 5-0 victory over the Dodgers in Boston. He also handled eight chances in the field in flawless fashion.

The Cleveland Indians outlasted the Chicago White Sox, 12-11 in a 14-inning affair lasting four hours and 20 minutes.

Fred Sanford outpitched Dizzy Trout to give the Browns a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers in St. Louis.

In the only other scheduled contest, the Boston Red Sox won the first night game of the season, defeating the Senators, 6-0, in Washington.

Lefty Mel Parnell limited the Senators to five hits while Boston collected ten, including three singles and a double by Ted Williams, defending batting champion who had a perfect night.

Hedges Takes Third In Row, Newman Roars

Hedges won its third straight game in the grade school softball league yesterday but it was the Newman team which really wore its hitting clothes.

Newman blasted out 36 hits to smother Bushnell 36-5 and maintain its undefeated record. Hedges bested Woodland 15-9, while Western walloped Bowman, 16-5, and Prospect trounced Carpenter 11-3.

Shelby Baseball Coaches to Meet

SHELBY — The players and coaches of the newly organized Shelby Blues baseball team will meet tonight at 7:30 at the American Legion home on East Main street.

Walter Cron is making arrangements to schedule strong teams in Ohio in an effort to bring good talent to the local diamond. Coaches for the team are Gaston Ewalt, Don Becker, Russell Brown and A. C. Brumbach.

Senior High Slips Past Marion, 2 to 1

For the third time in three games "Lady Luck" smiled on the Senior high baseballers yesterday afternoon.

The Tygers, who can't hit their way out of a paper bag, took advantage of the breaks in the sixth inning to tally two unearned runs and defeat Marion Harding, 2 to 1, on the Blue Goose diamond. Senior high has scored only seven runs in winning three straight and only two of the runs have been earned.

Lou Gregorio and Shelley Swank again teamed on the mound for the Tygers and turned in a creditable job. Gregorio went the first five innings, allowing three hits and the lone Marion run. Swank gave up one blow in the seventh. Gregorio fanned 12.

WILDNESS HELPS

Wildness on the part of Marion Pitcher Don Johnson was the deciding factor in the game. Johnson permitted but one safe blow. However, he walked eight and was in hot water every inning except the fourth and fifth. The lone Tyger blow was a scratch hit by rookie Catcher Bobby Hartnett in the second.

In the Tyger sixth, Chuck Watts was safe on an error and Don Gross drew a free ticket to first. Then Johnson uncorked a wild pitch. Mike Gruber struck out and Phil Rogers popped up.

TWO FREE TICKETS

Coach Jimmy Lymper sent Joe Miller in to pinch hit for Cy Elsass and Miller drew an intentional pass. Another Johnson wild pitch plated the first Bengal run. Dave Marks batted for Hartnett and also walked.

The Tygers then pulled a triple steal with Gross sliding home with the winning run.

A single by Bill Mathias and a double by Jim Rea gave Marion its only run in the fifth.

Senior high plays Wooster on the Blue Goose diamond Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Ohio State Bucks Run Baseball Win Streak to Eight

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio State university boasted an eight-game baseball winning streak today after fattening on the Quantico Marines, 12 to 2, yesterday.

The slugging Bucks pounded out a dozen hits and were aided by loose fielding by the Marines.

Lefty Gene Brown registered his third victory of the year although giving way to Jack Hammett after seven innings. The devildogs collected seven hits off Brown and another off Hammett. Alex Verdova and Bill Bernhardt of the Bucks hit home runs.

Sande Under Investigation

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Earl Sande, one of America's greatest jockeys who now trains horses, revealed today that the thoroughbred racing protective bureau has questioned him about alleged stimulation of one of his horses. He denied that he knew anything about it.

When told that reports that he was under investigation were circulating throughout New York, Sande said:

"Yes, there is something in the wind, all right, but I don't know anything about it." The TRPB questioned me about something like that but I don't know a thing. They haven't barred me from the track or told me not to enter my horses so I'm just going about my business as though nothing happened.

Frisch Quint Wins Title In Commercial C

Frisch's Grocery won the championship of the Commercial C league last night but it certainly wasn't the fault of Pioneer Printing's Virg Zimmerman who put on a consistent bowling exhibition on the Colony alleys.

Zimmerman bested 200 four times out of six to pace Pioneer in their scheduled match with Independent Towel and a championship run-off with Frisch's.

Frisch's held a one game league lead at the beginning of last night's play but after winning their opening game they faltered and dropped the final two to Rex's Billiards.

FORCE ROLLOFF

Pioneer, meanwhile, was being paced by Zimmerman's brilliant 267-188-167—622, and won two of three from Independent Towel to force Frisch's in a three game rolloff.

The Grocers hitched up their aprons in the final match, however, and won the first and third games despite Zimmerman's continued terrific scoring of 200-204-214—618.

Other good scores posted on the league's final night included a 592 series by Joe Frisch in the playoff and a pair of 566 series rolled by Joe DeYarmon and Fred Carver.

★

In the Women's Commercial league, Donna Schuster set the pace with 193-169-203—565. She was trailed by Dorothy Huntsman's 197-144-147—488 and Hazel Hilborn's 133-209-143—485.

★

Idella Wilcox took over fifth place in the News-Journal head pin tournament still in full swing at Richland Recreation. Idella rolled a 107-89-74—270 in the women's Class A division.

N-J Golf Loop Board Meets

Arbitration board of the News-Journal Class A golf league will meet tonight at 7:30 at the home of Pete Zeides, 46 West Raleigh avenue.

Zeides, who is president of the league, today announced the list of golfers who have signed as alternates for 1948 play.

The list follows: No. 1, Arnie Adams and Dick Connelly; No. 2, Don Robinson and Lyle Gray; No. 3, Ernie Stall, Joe DeYarmon and Orlie Grable; No. 4, John Hoffman, Fred Hallabrin, Adam Mayer, Joe Cipris, John Zeides and Don Bird.

The league will open play next Tuesday on the Possum Run links.

Champs Go On Second F-H Show

Two and possibly three Friendly House boxing champions will appear on tonight's amateur boxing card which starts at 8:15 p. m. in the Friendly House gym.

Howard Carney and Don Esbenshade are the champions who are sure to fight while Matchmaker Mike Wentz at noon today was still trying to line up an opponent for Orlando Carbetta. All three lads won titles in the Friendly House-40 et 8 club tournament two months ago.

WANTS REVENGE

Carney goes against Dick James of Marion while Esbenshade battles Eddie Williams of Ashland. Williams defeated Esbenshade on an Ashland amateur card recently.

Eight decision bouts and a pair of exhibitions are on the ticket. The battle royal kids will perform in one of the exhibitions.

Wentz announced this morning that a few tickets would be available at the gate tonight.

The card:
Alton Fowler, F-H, 133 vs. Ralph Greer, F-H, 139 (exhibition).
James Middlebrook, F-H, 124 vs. Gene Hunt, Marion, 122.
Art Mowrey, Ashland, 149 vs. Harold Walks, Marion, 145.

Veeck Faces 3rd Operation

CLEVELAND —(AP)— President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians will enter Cleveland clinic next Monday for additional surgery on his injured right leg.

Veeck, who suffered the injury while serving with the marines during the war, already has had two amputations on the leg.

He reported last night the nature of the new surgery would not be determined until after he reenters the clinic. The leg now has been amputated to a point about eight inches below the knee.

Citation, Coaltown Big Favorites

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK—Ben F. Whitaker, the big bankroll man from Texas will hope and pray and almost die on Derby Day down in the blue grass country of Kentucky.

He has a good race horse named My Request, a horse which may be the favorite for most Derbies but which will be a third choice slightly better or worse next Saturday at Louisville.

My Request has won four races in four starts this year and in so doing has brought all the best eastern horses right to their knees.

Still, this fast-rustling son of Requested has yet to get into the big leagues where he will book a couple of Derby favorites named Citation and Coaltown from the barns of Warren Wright, master of Calumet farms.

Despite My Request's fine performance few of the onlookers will pay him the slightest heed. Most of the riders and the trainers and the owners say it will take a miraculous stroke to beat one or both of the Calumet stars.

The situation is such that it now appears likely that not more than a half dozen horses will go to the post. Citation or Coaltown will win the $100,000 stake almost by concession.

The probable starters include besides My Request, Citation and Coaltown such seeming outsiders as Billings, Escadru, Grandpere and Galedo.

Scratch a couple of those because of track conditions or just plain wisdom and the race will wind up in a virtual walkover for Calumet.

The race also is likely to wind up with the track taking a beating not that Co. Matt Winn need mind that. He's loaded after all these years of promoting the Derby.

So can he. Churchill Downs can't lose that is must pay 10 cents on the dollar at least.

It is a cinch that they will wind up with a parimutuel pool for show and thus must dig into the track coffers to pay off the customers.

One way or another this is going to be a strange Derby mainly because the horse owners, who must be gamblers fundamentally, won't put a meager $1,000 to start for a run at that $100,000 added.

There's a hundred to one if you ask. The figures are approximate, but it still is close enough to a hundred to one to make it worth while, and there still is a lucrative payoff for second, some money for third and enough to get hailed out for fourth.

It looks as though the gambling is strictly through the machines and not in the bosoms of the owners.

Youth Gets Five Years Probation

Court Gives Smith Another Chance

Lack of proof of absolute guilt brought William Ellsworth Smith, 21, another chance yesterday in common pleas court to make good his probation.

Humble and trembling, the South Main street youth hung on every word as Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch weighed the case, then pronounced the maximum probation term of five years as punishment.

Smith, arrested on a violation of probation charge, was held in connection with the theft of a car owned by H. C. Kyner, 589 Crescent road, on March 30. Smith drew his first probation sentence on Jan. 28 when found guilty of stealing a car in Mansfield and wrecking it in Parma.

HOUR-LONG TALK

The remonstration Judge Kalbfleisch gave Smith lasted more than an hour.

"If I was sure you were guilty, you'd be out in the reformatory right now, but nobody saw you get in the car, drive it, or get out of it," the judge said.

"You know that, too, and if you're lying and think you'll be smart to get off with probation, I might just as well send you to the reformatory now.

"Being under probation only two months you should have stayed away from all cars."

Smith was tentatively identified by Kyner as the youth he saw walk over to his car on Crescent road and slam the door, and as the youth he pursued through back yards in the Overlook area. Kyner's car was stolen from 157 West Fourth street about three hours before Kyner returned to his home to find his stolen car parked directly in front of his house.

SAW YOUTH NEAR CAR

Kyner said he saw a youth approach his car while he was waiting on his lawn for a police cruiser and that the youth was still outside the car after the door slammed and he had shone his flashlight on the man.

During a pursuit through the area, the fleeing man fell.

The same night Smith turned up at General hospital with a broken arm, which he insisted he suffered when a car struck him on South Main street.

Atty. George Biddle represented Smith at the hearing.

Smith was ordered to report weekly to Ralph Hughes, bailiff of the court, and to seek employment.

NEWARK, N. J.—(U.P.)—Willie (Shamus) McCrea, 145½, Cleveland, O., scored an upset 10-round decision over Aaron Perry, 149, Washington, at Laurel Gardens before 1,000 fans last night.

HAIFA—WHERE JEWS GIRD AGAINST ARAB ATTACK—Strong forces of Haganah troops are reported patrolling Haifa (above), Palestine, after routing Arab soldiers in a whirlwind attack on the important port city. Some 65,000 of Haifa's Arabs are said to have left the city for nearby Acre. Jewish reinforcements have been rushed in to guard against a quick all-out intervention by armies of Arab countries which could invade the Holy Land from three fronts.

'Best Buys' Labels Urged on Food

U. S. to Guide Housewife's Dollar

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The government has a new plan to take the "price pressure" off meat.

Under the plan grocers will be expected to "help the housewife spend her food dollars more economically." Before launching it on a nationwide scale, the government will test the plan next month at York and Lancaster, Pa., to see if it works.

Beginning May 10 grocers in those cities will be asked to label the foods which are the "best buys" in their stores. The federal government will furnish the identifying label.

It also will furnish a list of nutritional and abundant foods from which the "best buys" must be selected.

The list will include chickens, eggs and fish. Meat will not be on the list.

SEEKS TO SPREAD BUYING

The plan was devised by the agriculture department's food conservation directors.

The purpose of the "best buy" plan is to spread consumer buying to as many commodities as possible. Increasing the consumption of relatively abundant foods will help take the price pressure off scarce foods and will reduce spoilage and waste, officials said.

It will be up to the grocer himself to decide each week which foods on the government's monthly list are "good buys" in his store. He will be permitted to use the government's official label to call attention to them in advertising and displays.

He will be expected to stop pushing a food with the government's label wherever it ceases to be a "good buy."

The York and Lancaster grocers also will be asked to distribute to consumers the department's new booklet "Money-Saving Main Dishes." The booklet contains 150 recipes using "plentiful foods."

NON-LUXURY ITEMS

In addition to eggs, chickens and fish, the following "non-luxury" items will be on the government's list of foods plentiful in May:

Citrus fruits—Oranges, grapefruit and lemons.

Vegetables — Cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, Irish potatoes.

Canned foods — Citrus juices, grapefruit segments, peas (lower grades), pumpkin, sweet potatoes, tomato juice, catsup, tomato paste and puree.

Dried fruits—Prunes, raisins, peaches and figs.

Spreads—Fruit spreads, honey, peanut butter.

Walnuts, filberts and pecans.

'Italy to Need Four Years' —de Gasperi

Premier Also Urges Peace Treaty Revision

By HUGH BAILLIE
(President of the United Press)
(World Copyright By United Press)

ROME —(U.P.)— Italy needs the entire four years of the Marshall plan to keep her communists on the run, and revision of her peace treaty to play a full part in the western European union.

Premier Alcide de Gasperi outlined these two aims to the United Press in his first exclusive interview since he led his Christian Democratic party to a smashing election victory over the communist front.

Despite the victory, he said, communism will continue as an important factor in Italy "because the party internal machinery is an iron one."

"The communist front got 8,000,000 votes and many votes are always a danger," De Gasperi said. "But we are working to convert them."

In connection with reducing communist strength De Gasperi also said:

"You can be sure the money the American taxpayer is spending here will not be wasted."

MARSHALL PLAN CITED

The 67-year-old prime minister, whose electoral victory made him indisputable leader in Italy and a leading contender for the biggest man in western Europe, spoke for 50 minutes on the post-election outlook for his country.

He asserted peace treaty revision is essential to give Italy full parity with other nations, enable her to defend herself, restore her influence in the colonies and permit her full participation in the western European union.

"Speak as little as possible of war," De Gasperi said. "It is not approaching. I don't think it will soon."

"I want you to tell the American public that Italy is in a very contradictory situation. On the one hand there is a live desire for Italy to conduct an active policy in Europe alongside other powers. Other limitations imposed by the treaty prevent us from doing the very thing we are called on to do."

URGES SMALL ARMY

Questioned at some lengths as to what size and type of army he thought present day Italy should have, De Gasperi replied only:

"We believe the Italian army must be small, but with modern equipment. Here again the peace treaty limits us to an army of 250,000 and also fixes the number of tanks and planes."

On the question of whether Russian agreement would be essential for treaty revision, De Gasperi himself asked a question.

"How can you change a treaty which has been signed by four powers without the consent of one of these powers?"

That question he did not answer.

Ruggles, 43 Today, Absorbs 'Sponge Rubber Mumps'

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— Charlie Ruggles celebrated his 43rd year in show business today by getting the mumps.

They weren't actual mumps—but they were more painful than the real McCoy.

Ruggles currently is portraying June Haver's father in "Silver Lining," the screen biography of Marilyn Miller. An important phase of the late dancing star's life was the time her pop came down with the mumps.

So Director Dave Butler spent hours today experimenting on how to make Charlie's jowls puff up realistically. He jammed Ruggles' jaws with cotton. Then he tried chunks of apple. Then rock candy. None of the props gave the appearance of mumps.

Ruggles suggested sponge rubber. Butler stuffed the actor's mush with great gobs of the stuff. It looked right.

But after eight hours of talking with his mouth full of sponges, Ruggles had to take special treatment from an oral surgeon.

"This," he said, "is the most absorbing dialogue I've ever spoken."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

U. S. Biggest Purchaser Of Diamonds

Government Taking Increasing Number

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The dry ice business—the sale of diamonds for the glitter trade or industrial use—is getting more of an American accent. And Uncle Sam is buying heavily.

Before the war 75 per cent of the world's diamonds were marketed in the United States.

"Now it's about 85 per cent," said Joseph Baumgold, secretary of the world's largest diamond cutting firm. "And business is up 35 per cent over last year."

The number one customer is the man who wants to plunk down $200 to $500 for a ring as a gift to his wife-to-be or an anniversary present for his wife.

That will get him a stone of from one-fifth to one-half a carat—depending on its quality—or a ring made of "melee"—diamond fragments smaller than one-fifth of a carat.

MASS BUSINESS

Diamonds are a mass rather than a class business. Only fifteen per cent of it is on the luxury level—over $500 a stone.

Biggest buyer today after the prospective bridegroom is Uncle Sam.

"The government is stockpiling diamonds again," said Baumgold. "They are a strategic mineral."

War has changed the diamond market in several ways. Few people know or remember that the diamond is the hardest thing on earth—tougher than a banker's heart in a depression. Industry has found nothing to take its place to cut and grind metals.

"Before the war 95 per cent of the diamonds here went into the gem trade," said Baumgold. "Only 5 per cent were used industrially. Now it's about 25 per cent.

"Diamonds cut through aluminum and other light metals developed for war use like they were so much butter."

WAGES HIGH

Before the war, the melee and industrial diamond cutting trade centered in Antwerp and Amsterdam.

But after the Germans invaded the "low countries," American dealers set up schools to teach American cutters to deal with the small stuff.

"There were 500 diamond cutters in the United States in 1940," said Baumgold. "Today there are 3,500. The business hasn't gone back to Europe, although everyone predicted it would."

Diamond cutters are tightly unionized and make from $2.50 to $7.50 an hour for a 35-hour week. Top cutters on the large stones make up to $200 a week or more.

The only thing that can cut a diamond efficiently is another diamond. Diamond dust from the last diamond, rubbed with oil on a whirring, incredibly thin steel blade, is often used to cut the next diamond.

Quality, Not Price, Is Best Buying Gauge

NEW YORK—(AP)—Shopping experts say that if you are trying to beat the high cost of living you should take time to compare good and bad points in the things you buy.

It is a mistake, these experts say, to conclude that simply because an article is high-priced it is better for your purposes than one less costly. Frequently, they say, high-priced goods are made for style and not wear and may have a shorter life than a sturdier article in the lower-price range.

Numerous books have been written to tell how to appraise quality in clothing, furniture and other consumer articles. These books are available in many public libraries. In addition, newspapers often publish helpful material of this kind.

Some authorities say, however, that it may be hard for consumers to keep up with the many new materials and products coming onto the market. Even experts such as department store buyers have been fooled by some synthetic textiles, for example.

OFFERS SOLUTION

The solution, says the National Consumer-Retailer Council, Inc., is in more "informative labeling." This council, an organization supported by leading consumer and merchandising groups, urges manufacturers to use labels giving complete information on the quality and performance of their product. It says labels should answer five questions:

What the product is made of; how it is made; what it will do; how to care for it; and how to use it.

The council recommends that you carefully read labels of competitive products before you buy. Retail experts say that where "informative labels" are lacking, you should ask the five questions above of sales clerks. Reputable stores, they say, are eager to give this information since if you know what you are getting you are less likely to be dissatisfied later.

One of the most controversial questions for consumers is "grade labeling," where products are given a score or rating. In the case of many canned foods, products are graded A, B and C and manufacturers who wish may put the grade on their label. Meats also are graded, and many drugs must conform to U.S. Phamacopela specifications and are grade-labeled "U.S.P."

Many consumer groups urge you to buy wherever possible on the basis of grades. They say that in this way you know automatically which product is the best quality. Opponents of grade labeling say, however, that it disregards the question of taste. They argue that a Grade B product may be just as nutritious as one rated Grade A and while its appearance may be off, it may be prepared by the canner so that it is more tasteful and generally more suitable.

Regardless of differences over grade labeling, however, consumer experts agree that you can save money if you compare the facts about competing products and choose the one that is the best value for the purpose you intend.

The Story of Your Loss Is Written Where Finders Look

In News-Journal Lost Ads

The way to write a happy ending to your tale of woe over losing anything from pets to pearls, is to put the story of your loss into a News-Journal Lost Ad. The thousands of missing purses, wandering pups, and mourned-for keepsakes they've recovered in the past years are ample proof that finders look for losers in the Lost Ads.

You may be lucky enough never to need their help. But if and when you do, don't waste valuable time trying to find your lost property unaided. Assure a happy ending for your loss story by telling it to a News-Journal Ad-Taker at once. Call—

Stassen Invites Rivals To Discuss His Policies

PORTLAND, Ore.—(U.P.)—Harold E. Stassen, pushing his campaign against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for Oregon's 12-man delegation to the Republican national convention, announced yesterday that he will invite GOP leaders to express their views on his domestic and international policies.

Stassen said he considered his chances "excellent' for winning Oregon's delegation in the "very important" May 21 primary election.

"I will invite other Republicans, during the course of the campaign, to present their views agreeing or disagreeing with whatever position I take on major issues. When I return to Oregon May 17-18-19-20 I will take up any differences that have developed between me and other Republicans," he said.

Stassen said Republican reaction thus far had been favorable to his Akron, O., speech urging a "collective defense" union of nations under Sec. 51 of the United Nations charter.

He said he considered the Oregon primary highly significant because it will be the only major test of west coast Republican preference.

He will leave Portland late today, returning briefly to Minnesota. From there he will tour New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia and North Carolina before coming back to Oregon.

"Our support is expanding rapidly. Now we must carry on a nationwide campaign," he said.

Republic Steel Denies Pay Plea

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—The Republic Steel corporation yesterday denied demands of the United Steelworkers (CIO) for a "substantial" wage increase.

The company said it refused the wage demands because "wages have advanced more rapidly than living costs and wage increases could not be taken from profits

U. S. Business Urged to Share 'Brains' to Aid Europe

Appeal Made By C. of C. Spokesman

Chamber Holding Annual Meeting

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A plea that American business quickly volunteer its best management to Europe's recovery effort was delivered today to the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Clem D. Johnston, of Roanoke, Va., chairman of the chamber's international committee, voiced the appeal to more than 2,500 businessmen attending the organization's 36th annual meeting.

Johnston said in a prepared speech that every industry should offer to Paul G. Hoffman, economic administrator, a list of "qualified men" able and willing to work directly with European industry.

The keynote address of the session, delivered by President Earl O. Shreve, of New York City, carried a demand for federal economy through the period of heavy foreign aid and steeply mounting national defense costs.

CALLS ECONOMY ESSENTIAL

"Economy in government is essential to the security of the nation," Shreve declared. "The obligations of world leadership are costly . . .

"Businessmen should take the lead in restraining their communities from seeking federal outlays of money for local and area projects that well can wait . . .

"The larger national interests should come first."

Shreve said the creative forces of the free enterprise system can be encouraged "by a minimum of government controls, by wise tax laws, by cooperation to expand international trade and production."

"But, he contended in his advance text, "a return of deficit federal spending would fan the fires of inflation into flame again."

Civil works projects—those now underway, planned or proposed—will have cost $35,500,000,000 by the time of completion, Shreve reported. Other proposals by state and local governments swell the sum to $50,000,000,000 and the end is not in sight, he said, adding:

"How can our government, no matter how rich, consider seriously meeting such demands?"

Eagles Plan Aerie For New London

NEW LONDON—A call for a meeting of prospective members of a new Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which is to be organized here, has been issued by J. A. Fields, ar organizer for the FOE.

The meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the VFW hall. Fields will explain the aims and benefits of the FOE and discuss the requirements for granting of a charter.

He said more than 50 men had expressed desires to become charter members

Pastor to Attend Boston Meeting

Prices Drop As New Selling Wave Sweeps Stock Market

NEW YORK—(AP)—New selling swept the stock market today carrying fractions to a point lower.

It was quickly apparent plenty of traders still were ready to cash in on profits accumulated during the long advance. Even yesterday's sharp reaction wiped out only a little more than half of the average gains of the previous week.

Declines spread through nearly all sections of the list, and some initial gains were reduced or eliminated. Dealings hit a moderately active pace before slowing down.

Church Members Plant 43 Acres to Help Raise Funds

SHELBY — Members of the Evangelical United Brethren church at Richmond gathered Monday at the Ross Beelman farm on U. S. Route 224, to plant 18 acres of oats and to plow and fit 25 acres of land for corn and soybeans as part of a project to raise money to remodel and enlarge the church.

Under the supervision of Willard Fritz of Richmond, former superintendent of the Richmond church school, 14 tractors went into the field to work as a unit to plant the church's farm.

The farm is rented on shares by the Richmond church from Mr. Beelman. Last year when the project was started the farm brought a net profit of $350. This year the church hopes to realize approximately $1,000 with the additional harvest of wheat which was sowed last fall.

Ice cream and pop was furnished to the farmers taking part in the work yesterday.

The members driving tractors Monday were: Fritz, Lyle Dawson, J. B. Fritz, building fund treasurer; Gordon Dawson, P. B. Keesy, Delbert Dawson, Arthur Capelle, Lee Dawson, Lester Hutchinson, Lyndel Coder, Wilbur Hershisher, Charles Miller, Lowell Eitle, Mrs. Lowell Eitle, Leon Hord.

Also helping with the work was Rev. Floyd Bryan, pastor of the church.

'Lester Leech' Found In Garden

"Lester Leech," seven inches long and free for the asking, is being offered by John E. Moore, 1018 Averill avenue.

It seems that the unfortunate "Lester" who is now worming his way in and out of a chunk of mud in a pickle can, made the mistake of invading Moore's garden last night.

Unusually large, the leech is mud-brown in color with a segmented body which permits the worm to elongate to seven inches or shrink to four inches. The anterior or front end of the leech has a suction cup through which the worm gets his food, or through which it may draw human blood. Leeches were commonly used in olden times for "bleeding" sick persons.

Moore's phone number is 6951-4 for anyone who would like to adopt "Lester."

Clubs to Meet In Joint Session

The Mansfield Exchange and Optimist clubs will meet jointly Wednesday at 11:45 a. m., at the Mansfield-Leland hotel to hear a talk by Richard W. Barker, colonel in the Transportation corps during World War II.

The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs heard Maurice Taylor, YMCA secretary, in a joint meeting today at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

State Highway Garage Burns

BUCYRUS—Louis F. Hauff, Bucyrus worker for the state highway department, was treated for second degree burns at City hospital yesterday after a fire at the state highway garage.

Overheated tar overflowed a portable vat and ignited the spectacular 40-minute blaze. Approximately 800 gallons of the road mix material was consumed by the flames which shrouded the area in black smoke for more than an hour.

City firemen extinguished the fire before it spread to nearby drums of tar.

Lodge Officers To Take Posts

The Mansfield Moose lodge will install officers at ceremonies at 8 p. m., today at the lodge home.

The new officers are: Edmund Pelasky, governor; Jacob F. Herf, junior governor; Vern Brandenberg, prelate and George Loch, treasurer.

Earl A. McFarland was elected to a three-year term as trustee and Fred J. Berry remains as secretary of the club.

Plans are being made for a hunting and fishing movie to be shown May 11 for lodge members and their guests.

Suspect Freed Without Charge

A 24-year-old North Diamond street man, arrested in connection with the theft of used household goods, was at liberty today, sheriff's deputies reported.

They said Emmett Casler, 622 Park avenue east, from whom the goods were stolen, said he did not wish to file charges.

Deputies said the man, who admitted the theft, had agreed to return the goods or pay for those which he had sold.

City Streets Are Cleaned

ASHLAND — Regular street-flushing program was inaugurated yesterday by Mayor Louis E. Mansfield.

City employes flushed Main, Center, Claremont, Orange and Union streets in the downtown areas at a late hour when there was little traffic.

Mayor Mansfield announced that the flushing would continue throughout the summer. Merchants were asked to close basement windows and barricade any openings through which water might reach basement merchandise.

Fire Chief Paul Soles has asked merchants to stop sweeping debris from stores and sidewalks into gutters.

Music Week Proclaimed

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn has proclaimed the week of May 2 to 9 as Mansfield Civic Music week.

That week also is National and Inter-American Music week and marks the 25th anniversary of Music week on a nation-wide basis.

The proclamation stated that the Mansfield Music Study club always has furnished the city the best possible educational and cultural programs.

Fish Fry Set For Saturday

A fish fry, with "all the trimmin's" will be given by Baku Grotto Saturday at 6:30 p. m., Howard Wenning, secretary of the organization, announced today.

FTC Upheld In Cement Price Case

Supreme Court Finds Collective Action

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Supreme court upheld 6-1 yesterday Federal Trade commission charges that numerous cement producers maintained a combination to fix prices throughout the country.

Justice Black wrote the majority decision. Justice Burton wrote a dissent. Justices Douglas and Jackson took no part.

The commission's principal complaint was against use of a multiple basing-point delivered-price system.

The decision was expected by attorneys to have an important bearing on the outcome of similar charges recently made by the FTC against the American Iron and Steel institute and its members. These include the major steel producers. The commission has not yet issued an order in the steel cases.

'SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE'

Black said that to the majority it "seems impossible" to conceive that anyone who read the FTC findings could doubt that the agency "found that respondents (the cement companies involved) collectively maintained a multiple basing-point delivered-price system for the purpose of suppressing competition in cement sales."

"The findings are sufficient," Black added. "The contention that they were not is without substance. . . .

"We cannot say that the commission is wrong in concluding that the delivered-price system as here used provides an effective instrument, which left free for use of the respondents, would result in complete destruction of competition and the establishment of monopoly in the cement industry."

DISPUTES OUTLINE

In dissenting, Burton said the majority disagreed not with the legal conclusion of the court below, but with its outline of facts, to which that law was applied.

Basically, Burton said, he agreed with the court below that there was insufficient evidence on which to reach a conclusion that there was a price agreement among the producers.

The commission said that under the delivered-price system, cement is sold only at delivered prices and the delivered price which each producer quotes at any given point in the United States is identical with the delivered price quoted by all other producers who seek business at that point.

"The cement industry has long evinced a strong aversion to competition," the FTC added. "The belief has developed that free and open competition is impracticable for this industry, and that no producer should attempt to excel others in quality, price or terms of sale."

'Painless Baby' Puts Hand On Hot Stove and Laughs

AKRON — (UP) — One of the world's few "painless" babies is being held for observation in Children's hospital here.

The year-old infant, Beverly Smith, has never in her life felt pain and is not likely to, doctors say. She cries when she is hungry or angry, but never because of a hurt.

Children's hospital physicians said the baby does not have a disease but a condition described as "a state of indifference to injury of congenital origin." Only four or five other children in the world ever have been born that way, doctors believe.

A resident physician described her condition as "a developmental defect, not a disease. But it has no remedy."

Not until the baby appeared anemic did her mother, Mrs. Victor Smith, take the infant to the hospital where the condition was revealed.

Before that Mrs. Smith had marveled at the way Beverly first bumped her head on the floor at the age of six months, without seeming to mind at all. Later, Mrs. Smith said, "she laid her little hand on a hot stove. She didn't cry then either, she just looked at me and laughed.

"Finally she got more bumps and bruises all over and I took her to four different physicians. They said it might be just habit, but they were as bewildered as I."

In the hospital the baby was given a deep injection of liver for her anemia, usually a very painful procedure, but she "never even yipped."

Today the infant's head still is swollen from bumps on the side of her crib and nurses have had to hang pads up to protect her.

Mrs. Smith has one other child, Barbara, 3, who is perfectly normal.

New Wisconsin Stamp Due Soon

Mansfield stamp collectors are marking a space in their albums for the new three-cent stamp which will be issued at the Madison, Wis., post office on May 29.

The commemorative stamp will mark the 100th anniversary of the admission of Wisconsin into the union.

"We expect a shipment of 20,000 of the new stamps for the area," Curtis L. Ford, acting Mansfield post master said. We should have our allotment about the first week in June."

The central design of the commemorative stamp will have a reproduction of the Wisconsin state capitol building and to the right a scroll showing an outline map of the state around which will be printed "Wisconsin Centennial 1848-1948."

New Truck Speeds City Line Work

Electrical Workers Get Modern Vehicle

A new maintenance truck equipped to facilitate the work of the city electrical department arrived in Mansfield yesterday.

The red, $7,200 vehicle was driven to Mansfield from Cleveland by City Electrician Ernest Adams. The American Coach and Body company installed the body on the truck.

The unit is not yet complete, Adams said. He will drive it back to Cleveland early in June so the company can install a 21-foot hydraulic ladder.

The ladder will make it possible for the electricians to repair traffic lights and police and fire alarm wires without leaving the truck.

In addition to the ladder, the truck is equipped to permit the department to place and remove its own utility poles.

"This is a far cry from 1930 when I first came to work for the city," Adams said. "In those days I had a small car with a couple of ladders strapped to each fender.

'Odorless Paint' Shown Dealers

Manufacture of "an absolutely odorless paint" by the Marietta Paint and Color company was announced today by Arthur C. Gale, manager of the Mansfield store.

The new line of paints was introduced at a meeting of more than 50 painters at the Eagles Hall last week. Gale said there were 17 different products in the line. They include a new masonry coating, alkyd-resin type similar to the resin used in automotive lacquers. For use on both interior and exterior surfaces of brick, stucco, or concrete, it is mixed with water but is impervious to water when dry.

250 Pay Tribute to Business, Civic Leader at Funeral Rites

"A remarkably great man" was the tribute paid to Rudolph W. Hartman by Rev. Matthew G. Madden at funeral services for Mr. Hartman yesterday afternoon.

About 250 relatives and friends crowded the Finefrock funeral home to pay final respects to the Mansfield business and civic leader who died at General hospital at the age of 74 last Friday afternoon after a brief illness.

Mr. Hartman was founder and president of the Hartman Electrical Manufacturing company.

"It is a mark of greatness in a man if he can walk with the crowd and not lose his virtue or walk with kings and not lose his sense of values," Rev. Madden said. "Rudolph Hartman was that sort of man. He had a calmness and serenity that was unusual, and it was due to his abiding faith. He never lost life's true perspective.

"His life was devoted to the best in literature, to his family whom he loved dearly and to his church and finally to life at large.

"All these qualities he invested in his children and as long as they live he, too, will live on."

Following his sermon, Rev. Madden gave the ritualistic commitment service of the Congregational church.

Burial was in the Mansfield cemetery.

Truman Frees Saboteurs Landed In U. S. By Subs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Ernest P. Burger and George John Dasch, convicted Nazi saboteurs who landed from submarines on the east coast in June, 1942, have been freed from prison and allowed to return to Germany.

The White House said yesterday President Truman had approved a Justice department recommendation for clemency for the two men.

They were taken to Germany under army custody and will be permitted to live in the American occupation zone under conditions imposed by the commanding general.

Burger and Dasch were among eight men rounded up by the FBI as saboteurs put ashore from subs with instructions to cripple American war industries.

They were tried by a military committee and all were convicted. Six were executed.

President Roosevelt cut death sentences for Burger and Dasch to imprisonment because they gave information on the details of the conspiracy. Burger was sentenced to life imprisonment and Dasch 30 years.

Time at Hand to Revise Policy Toward Britain

Overworked officials, constrained to act in a time of crisis, tend to fall back upon ideas and plans which antedate the emergency and are outdated by it. It is evident, for example, that American military policy antedates the European crisis which, beginning with the coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia, has brought about the momentous agreement to form a military alliance in western Europe.

It is no less evident that Secretary Marshall went to Bogota unprepared to meet the fact that the Marshall plan for Europe alters profoundly the older inter-American system, and the basic relations among North America, South America and Europe.

In the weeks and months to come we shall find, I venture to think, that we must reconsider and revise not only our strategical doctrine and policy, not only our conception of the Western Hemisphere, but also our relations with the British Commonwealth and Empire.

For the events which have compelled this country to underwrite the rehabilitation and to guarantee the security of western Europe are in their magnitude and their consequences as great as any since the formation of modern national states. It may well be, indeed it is most probable, that they mark the breakdown of the traditional system of separate national states and the inauguration of a new political society in Europe and in the Americas.

★

The role of Great Britain in this immense evolution is crucial and extraordinarily difficult. For, as an English friend of mine, who has had much to do with working out the E. R. P., puts it, the "dilemma" of Great Britain is that "she cannot afford to go into a federation of western Europe if that involves breaking up the British Commonwealth; she cannot afford not to co-operate militarily, financially, politically, economically, with France Benelux, and western Europe."

The British dilemma is real, and unless it can be resolved, Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Harriman for this country, M. Bidault and M. Spaak for the Europeans will find that British collaboration is ambiguous and uncertain.

Britain will be bound to avoid the clear decisions and the firm commitments which her partners and allies will call upon her to make.

★

But the British dilemma is also an American dilemma. For if Britain's entrance into a European federation means the breaking up of the British Commonwealth and Empire, what is to become of the non-European parts of the Commonwealth and Empire?

There are some who think they could become parts of an empire. But this would be a dangerous, perhaps even a disastrous and tragic, outcome.

For the American republic could not, without a revolutionary transformation of all that is most essentially American, become the heir and the successor to the British imperial power. The fearful muddle in which we are already involved as successors to Britain in Greece, Palestine, Iran and the whole Middle East is only a small example of how contrary to our interests, how unsuited to our character and experience, is the role of heir and successor to the British Empire.

★

The British dilemma and the American dilemma can be resolved only by the construction of a large political community which includes the British Commonwealth, the inter-American system, and a European federation with its African dependencies and colonies.

In this larger community it would be unnecessary for the British to choose between Europe and the Commonwealth.

In this community Great Britain and France could at long last become united in peace, not merely allied in war. In this community alone is there hope of solving the German problem which is becoming progressively more snarled up.

In this community the United States would be insured against the necessity or the temptation to create an American empire on the ruins of the British Empire. In this community the Western Hemisphere would no longer be confronted with the insoluble and disruptive problems so sharply posed at Bogota.

★

Dire necessity and extreme peril compel us and invite us to undertake the formation of this great Western political society. This is the new order of things which, if the world is not to sink into anarchy and war, will emerge from the chaos of our time.

Contests Stir Interest In Primaries

NOW the primaries are only a week ahead, and a considerable stepping-up of campaign activity is expected hereabouts between now and next Tuesday, especially in the lively contests for nomination for Richland county sheriff, in which the Republicans present four contenders and the Democrats three. The only other contest for nomination to county office is on the Republican ballot, with three candidates for commissioner and only two to be nominated.

For state offices, however, each of the parties presents several contests, with four aspirants of the Democratic nomination as governor and two Republicans contending against Thomas J. Herbert, present incumbent, for top place on that party ticket.

First column on each of the party ballots which voters will receive next Tuesday is devoted to listing the names of candidates for delegates and alternates to the national conventions. This presents no problem for Democratic voters as all whose names appear are to be chosen, with all pledged to W. A. Julian as "first choice for president." Julian being the "favorite son" candidate of Ohio Democrats.

On the Republican ballot, it will be noticed, ten names appear as candidates for delegates and alternates to the national convention, with only nine to be chosen. This is accounted for by the fact that nine of the ten are pledged to Senator Robert A. Taft as first choice for president, while one to be chosen as delegate-at-large would support the candidacy of Harold E. Stassen, this being indicated under the name of Carrington T. Marshall in the delegate list and Rufus S. Day, jr., in the list of alternates.

While some eligible voters may not regard decisions to be made at next Tuesday's primaries to justify taking time to go to the polls, there should be no overlooking the fact that this is an essential part of the American system of government and that an obligation rests upon all citizens to willingly accept a fair share of the responsibility of choosing local, district, state and national officials, each of whom is delegated by the people to perform certain duties in the way the PEOPLE want them done.

Season of Time Confusion Is Here

WHATEVER individual preferences may be in the matter of adoption or rejection of daylight savings time during the summer months, it can scarcely be argued that this should be left to each city to do its own deciding, rather than assuring uniformity in established zones—or at least in states.

Under the present slip-shod handling, it appears to be an hour later in Ashland than in Mansfield—which isn't particularly important, except that it balls things up for persons having appointments in either of these two cities. This applies on even a larger scale to variance of time in larger Ohio cities, some of which have set their timepieces ahead while others retain official Eastern standard time.

The whole procedure is as nonsensical as if each family were to do the deciding—for, without uniformity, there is no particular reason why the old "sun time" idea shouldn't be resumed.

For convenience, the United States is divided into four standard time zones, Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific, with the difference of one hour assigned to each—thus making it 9 a. m. Pacific time when it is noon Eastern time—and any departure from this long-established custom, unless nationally applicable, cannot fail to result in the confusion that is now being endured.

Those Who Treat Marriage Lightly

AMERICA is seldom presented in poorer light than by such episodes as that of a millionaire "sportsman" and a movie star flashing their wealth at a wedding—which was the fourth matrimonial venture for each of them.

Yesterday afternoon's marriage of Lana Turner and "Bob" Topping was delayed somewhat, it appears, by the technicality of Topping's most recent former wife not having her divorce finally granted until last Friday.

The wedding—which was laughingly called "very simple"—will impress most observers as quite elaborate, with a $25,000 trousseau for the bride, and an assortment of delicacies flown from New York to Hollywood for the "champagne reception" which followed the ceremony.

Wedding . . . divorce—another wedding, another divorce . . . and so, on and on—setting a pattern for other young people who are thus influenced to regard marriage as a temporary affair, to be ended as frequently as desired—by males who are the beneficiaries of inherited wealth and females who have no conscientious scruples against establishing marital relations with one after another of their admirers.

Milder Tone In Russian Criticism

A DISPATCH from an American correspondent in Moscow claims that the Soviet press has toned down its attacks on the United States and Great Britain.

Editorials and comment columns in Russian newspapers have, within the past month, shifted emphasis from international affairs to those of the interior of their own country. Little mention has been made of war recently and great stress has been laid on the five-year agricultural program and the price and production schedule in the Soviet Union. Criticism of the western powers has not stopped entirely, but it has become noticeably milder.

Since the Soviet press is known to be strictly censored, this can reasonably be assumed to reflect a government attitude, whatever its purpose may be.

No presidential candidate is venturesome enough to repeat the Hoover campaign slogan of 20 years ago, "Two cars in every garage." One car in good running order would exceed the wildest hopes.

Claude Callan notices: "Most of us are such terribly poor entertainers that we are bored when we are alone."

What Some Other People Are Saying

HOUSE SPEAKER JOSEPH MARTIN: "The communists have established beachheads in our own land and have placed key men and women in leadership positions in government, some labor unions, schools, some segments of the press, radio and movies."

REP. HINSHAW (R-Cal): "There is not much point in talking about whether we should have a 70-group air program or a 55-group program unless we keep foremost in mind the importance of production."

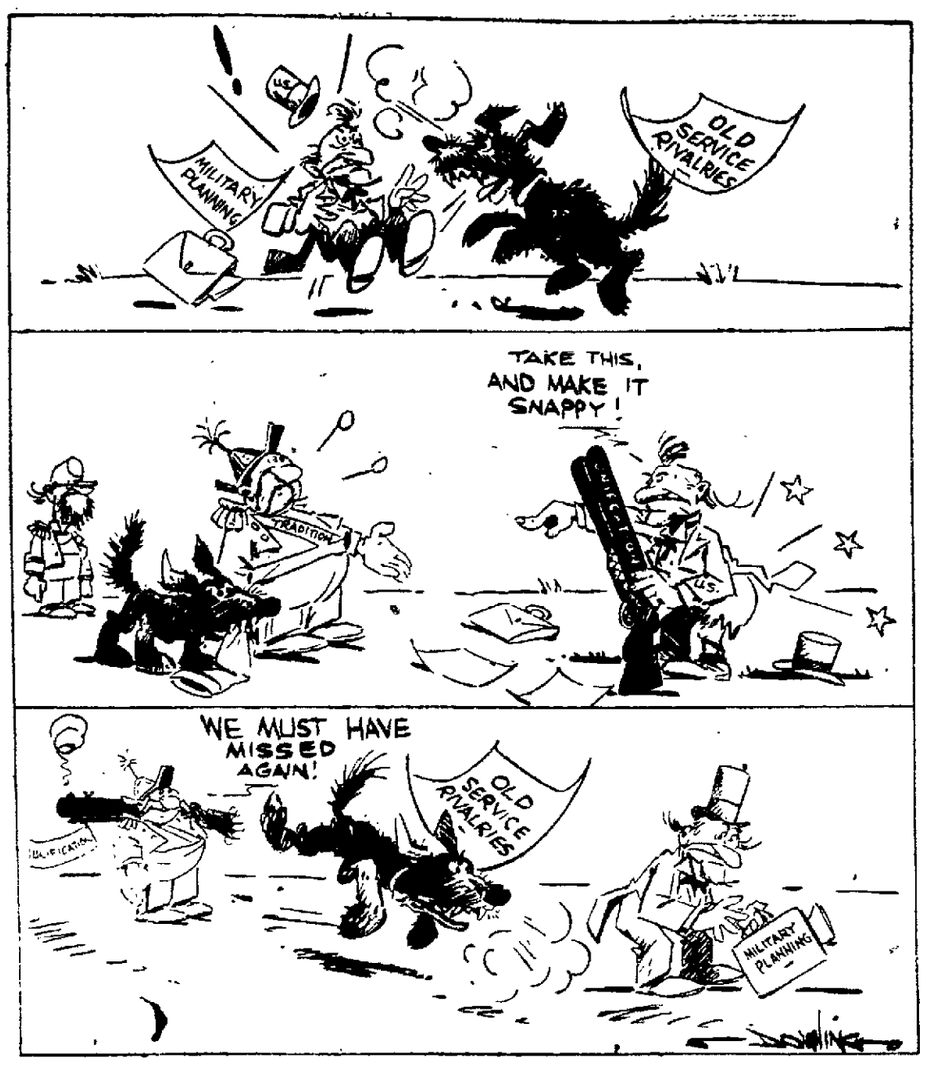
SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS: "It is the soul and culture of western Europe that has been the mainspring of its contribution to world civilization. . . . We must bend our energies if we are to succeed."



Orders of the Day.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Churchill Memoirs Err In War Blame

IN Winston Churchill's memoirs, currently published, there is an account of a conversation the great war prime minister had with President Roosevelt over the naming of the Second World War. Churchill suggested that it be called "the unnecessary war." He then goes on to tell how it could have been avoided.

With most of his conclusions we all can agree. The British governments of MacDonald, Baldwin and Chamberlain were almost criminally negligent. And Churchill's speeches of warning put him on sound ground.

French politics also opened the gates of weakness to the Germans. Beyond this, Churchill's catalogue of reason why the war was unnecessary are hardly so sound.

He suggests that there should have been an earlier recognition of the fallacy and futility of reparations. This is hindsight, because when Churchill was chancellor of the exchequer in the 20's he energetically sought to get what he could of German reparations. It was later, when the cloud of the great depression spread over Europe, that the realities were enforced on Britain, as well as on the United States. Then, the Hoover moratorium relieved the pressure, temporarily and to a degree.

Churchill says, further, that the French should have received the Rhine frontier that they so eagerly claimed. No river, even as broad as the Rhine, could have saved France. Such a frontier might even have increased the deadly sense of security induced by the Maginot Line. The morale and the political disunity of the French were the real weaknesses that no alteration of borders could have cured.

Moreover, to have given the French the west bank of the Rhine would have placed several million Germans inside France, which would certainly have been a further irritant to Germany and a still greater source of disunity for France.

* * *

Those Unpaid Debts

CHURCHILL now complains about the dismemberment of the Austrian empire, saying that it Balkanized most of Eastern Europe. But this was an inevitable breakup. It was going on even before the First World War. Minorities were everywhere demanding independence.

Finally, Mr. Churchill makes the familiar complaint about the refusal of the United States government to allow more relief from the debts owed by Europe to us.

The British claim in 1932 and 1933 was that, since they could not collect from their debtors, they could not pay their big creditor. A false analogy existed in this argument. The reparations were a fine; the debt to the United States was a real debt.

The reparations had been arbitrarily fixed. The debts owed to us were for goods and money actually given. They were, moreover, not war debts.

In the various reductions during the 20's, all the money advanced to our Allies in the war had been cancelled. The ten or twelve billions which were owed us in 1933 were loaned after the Armistice.

Moreover, Roosevelt in 1933 made no arbitrary demands. Countries such as Italy, Belgium and Poland, which claimed "inability to pay," were permitted to pass their payments. France simply defaulted without explanation. Britain was permitted to make a token payment of about 7 per cent of the amount due in June, 1933. After that, nothing was collected from any country except Finland.

Uncle Sam has many sins on his record, but he was no Uncle Shylock in the period described by Churchill.

Signal: 'Danger Ahead!'

By THOMAS L. STOKES

PREVIOUSLY there was discussed here the order early last month by General Lucius D. Clay, administrator of our zone in Germany, which virtually brought to an end our program to break up the great industrial monopolies, or cartels, that played so important a part in the nazi regime and the war it loosed upon Europe and the world.

The protest against this order by 19 members of the decartelization branch of the American military government was cited and quoted from. Evidence of the reduced scope of the program comes in a sharp cut in the personnel to carry it out

This abrupt change in basic policy, which has been lenient from the start and has left a number of former nazi and industrial overlords in key places, becomes significant at this particular time because of developments.

One, pointed out here previously, is the beginning of operation of the European recovery program in which Germany is included. Will our aid be used to build up the power of former cartelists and preserve the monopolistic control that proved so dangerous to Europe as well as to us?

The other, also touched upon previously, is the tension over Russia which has so excited our people that it can now be used as a screen behind which to build up a "strong Germany," as we hear it in subtle propaganda these days, and an excuse for letting the monopolies and monopolists alone and cooperating with them.

Because of Russia it is easy to confuse the basic issue. Russia, herself, is reported to be using the old industrialists in her zone, though in her case it seems to be a matter of closely controlling them and of really "using" them, rather than the attitude of cooperating with them, which appears to be more nearly the case with us.

Out of all this, out of the conflict over policy with Russia, the cartelists would seem to be the gainers. They are in a position to play both sides against the middle, as we say, and that is an old game with them.

There has been a very easy transition from this, with the scare about Russia, to a "strong Germany" as a bulwark against Russia—the theory of the "Cliveden set" in England before the last war—which has a military connotation beyond the original economic connotation.

At the outset, soon after the war, there was the Morgenthau Plan for a pastoral Germany. That was attacked and ridiculed. It was abandoned long ago, but it is still exploited as the horrible example by the propagandists for a "strong Germany" who would now go clear over to the other extreme to cooperation with the German industrialists.

There is, however, another alternative, a middle way. Production can be brought up to restore Germany and Europe economically through an efficient decartelized industry and without turning back complete control to a few nazi industrialists with power over a monopolistic pattern such as existed before in Germany and with ramifications into the rest of Europe that gave it such tremendous economic and political power. It is who controls that is important.

It is amazing, when you stop and consider, that we have reached the point, less than three years after the end of the war, where we are willing to take the nazi industrial warlords into partnership.

Yet it is a natural development of our policy about which the American people have been kept too much in the dark.

We are about to embark upon another great enterprise in Europe in the European Recovery Program from which much good could come. But if it is used to restore the power of the nazi monopolists, then we are headed again along the road that we took after the first World war when the cartelists were left in control and gradually built up the war machine from which the world suffered so much. For all they stood for we fought against.

This is something to remember as we make our plans to carry out the European Recovery Program.

Byrnes' Idea, 'Keep Russians Talking'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Thanksgiving day 1945, Jimmie Byrnes spent at his state department desk, worrying. As secretary of state and primarily responsible for U. S. relations with Russia, he didn't think he had too much to be thankful for.

The last conference with Molotov had broken off with no date, no plans, no provision for meeting again. The Big 3 foreign ministers had rowed continually ever since V-J Day, but Byrnes felt that if they kept talking at least there was continued hope.

Besides he knew that the Russians, unlike American diplomats, relished hot arguments. To them, it was all part of diplomatic negotiation.

Therefore, he thought it was important that these talks not be permanently broken off.

Finally Byrnes hit on the idea of taking advantage of a provision in the Potsdam agreement to call another conference; and to that end drafted a note to Stalin.

The note reminded Stalin that at Potsdam it was agreed the Big 3 foreign ministers were to meet in their respective countries, and that they had now met in San Francisco and London. However, they had not yet met in Moscow. If the United States, therefore, received an invitation to meet in Moscow, Byrnes wrote, it would be happy to accept.

Within a few days, Moscow cabled back inviting the United States and the British to meet there in December.

* * *

Keep Diplomats Talking.

THE Moscow conference which followed did not bring all the results hoped for, and Byrnes was criticized. However, it kept both sides talking.

That's one important thing to be remembered about any dispute—whether it be a threatened labor strike or a diplomatic negotiation. A good labor conciliator will keep both sides talking, for once they stop talking, they strike. And once diplomats stop talking, their armies start shooting.

At present, the Big 3 foreign ministers have stopped talking—which is dangerous. One diplomatic feeler has come to the state department from the Russians for a talk between Stalin and Truman, but the White House turned it down.

Asked by a White House visitor the other day, why he hadn't been willing to talk to Stalin, the President replied to the effect that he wasn't going to lick anyone's boots. Only he used words even stronger.

However, with the United States wisely starting a vigorous rearmament program, we are in a position to keep our feet under the diplomatic conference table without bootlickng — especially since we have shown our strength in the recent Italian elections.

In the opinion of this columnist, time is now on our side. The longer we can postpone war, the better chance we have of using the Marshall Plan to build a strong and friendly Western Europe. So it may pay us to keep on talking.

Smuggling Aliens.

THE cloak-and-dagger sleuthing of a Pennsylvania congressman may soon blow the lid off a notorious racket—smuggling aliens into the USA.

Congressman John McDowell of Wilkinsburg, Pa., has been making personal trips to Panama and Mexico tracking down the border-hopping of communist spies, war criminals and other undesirables. He has uncovered organized rings that smuggle political riff-raff into the United States for a fee, often with political string-pulling.

For some time, McDowell has wondered how the dregs of Europe could get into the United States, while deserving refugees were barred.

The worst hole in the dike, he found, was Windsor on the Canadian border. A parade of notorious Europeans passed right under official noses, armed with handout visitors' permits, good for only six months. Once on the inside, however, it was a simple matter to get the visas extended.

Other undesirables took a less legal route, secretly flew across the border without any papers. In one case, a Frenchman brought a load of communists and ex-nazis across the Atlantic in the same boat.

McDowell predicts that his investigation will shock the country when it becomes public. The state and justice departments have already asked to see the secret testimony of one border official, U. S. Consul John Bankhead at Windsor.

After word leaked out that Bankhead had talked to McDowell, he received a bottle of poisoned whisky. Later a mysterious assailant fired two shots at him and fled. McDowell has called upon the justice department to protect Bankhead's life.

Note—As a result of McDowell's investigation, the United States has closed both borders, except for persons with overwhelming proof of their business in this country.

Air Argument Continues.

SECRETARY of Defense Forrestal got a rough going-over from senators when he opposed the 70-group air program in a secret session of the Senate armed services committee.

"I'm glad to hear that you fellows have finally made up your minds," remarked Senator Dick Russell of Georgia when Forrestal said he and Truman were agreed on 66 air groups. "I've seldom encountered as much inconsistency as the armed services have shown on this subject. They have had their representatives up on the Hill dozens of times with conflicting stories of what our military establishment should be."

"They haven't convinced me," declared Iowa's plain-talking Senator Wilson. "I'm still for the full 70 groups. If we're going to use these obsolete storage planes then let's spend some money to make them up to date. However depending on obsolete planes in these advanced times is like living in an old house. You can modernize it to make it more livable but it's still an old house."

"The 66-group plan may solve our immediate needs," argued Senator Bridges of New Hampshire. "It may be all right for this year and next but it doesn't visualize the type of aircraft production we may be needing for five years from now."

Only convert Forrestal had was South Carolina's able Burnet Maybank, who seemed won over to 66-group compromise.

What Next In Palestine?

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Always, there is something awe-inspiring in watching world events fall into place in a long-predicted pattern, like pieces of a mammoth jigsaw puzzle.

That is happening today in Palestine.

Recent days of bloody fighting in the Hold Land have placed in the realm of admitted facts many previously-disputed points reported by this and other correspondents from the Middle East months ago.

Some of those facts are:

1—Arab soldiers and army chieftains from nearby Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Egypt have been entering Palestine illegally for many months and participating in raids against Jewish communities and traffic.

2—As far back as mid-February, they outnumbered the Jewish Haganah fighters by at least five-to-one.

3—However, despite that numerical superiority, their differences of command, inferior training and lack of discipline rendered them much less efficient as a fighting force than the Haganah.

4—Arab efficiency was being improved by the importation of various former German army officers and non-coms who both trained them and, when necessary, led them in battle; also their numbers were being increased daily by open smuggling all around the Palestine border from the nearby Moslem states.

With all those points in view, it was easy to predict months ago that when the Palestine struggle flared into open warfare, the Haganah would win the early rounds, despite being outnumbered.

It also was easy to predict that, unless the Haganah managed to open a route for its own reinforcements from the sea, the odds would favor the Arabs in a long-drawn war—since by sheer weight of numbers, eventually they could smother the Haganah.

With the exception of this last prediction, all these things have been definitely established within the past few weeks. The clearing of the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem supply route, the cleaning out of key trouble spots along the way, the capture of the deep-sea port of Haifa and its environs—all those have been swiftly-executed Haganah victories.

But they have done far more than confirm the predictions of a few on-the-spot observers of months ago.

They have demonstrated clearly that the key piece in this bloody international jigsaw puzzle lies today at Lake Success, in the lap of the United Nations.

It was because of the indecision and inaction at Lake Success that the Haganah was forced (there is no other word, if you count it as a means of survival) to capture the port city of Haifa.

* * *

Will United Nations Act?

A GLANCE at any Palestine map which shows the distribution of Arab and Jewish concentrations will make it clear that the Haganah had no hope for reinforcements from any outside route except the sea.

While the British still maintain control over the port proper in Haifa, that will be given over soon. Just to whom it will be given remains to be settled. At most, it probably would have been ruled a divided authority, which would have rendered importation of arms, equipment or fighting men for either side almost an impossibility.

But the Jews would have been the only ones to suffer, since Arab reinforcement was continuing from all sides

The fact that such outside intervention by neighboring Moslem countries is a direct violation of international law has been largely ignored at Lake Success.

Perhaps, in all justice, that was because although we reported it repeatedly, it was not then confirmed (admitted is a better word) by the countries involved.

In any case, the lack of United Nations action—or even protest—over this intervention and infiltration left the Jewish forces with only one alternative:

If they wanted to escape isolation and subsequent military strangulation, they had to seize and hold a reinforcement route and supply corridor to the sea and the outside world.

They have done exactly that in the capture of Haifa, and in the temporary clearing of a supply route down to Tel Aviv and across to Jerusalem.

Whether they can hold what they have taken, and whether full Arab armies from the nearby Moslem countries will be thrown officially into the Palestine fight, depends almost entirely on the United Nations.

Cheerfulness and Gloom

By ELSIE ROBINSON

GENERALLY speaking, I approve of cheerfulness. It's a nice, antiseptic virtue whose use should be encouraged.

But there are times when it's as natural for me to be gloomy as it is for a tree to shed its leaves.

I want to go off by my lonesome and feel the rain dripping through my branches and moan with the wind. I want to dig my roots deep in misery, and JUST ENJOY IT.

I get so tired sometimes of being a little sunbeam that I want to yell.

But just as sure as I get myself nicely wrapped in gloom, along comes someone with one of those glad smiles and tells me to "count my blessings."

Now if there's one thing I can't abide, it's that. When I settle down for a nice, gooey gloom I don't want to count my blessings. I don't even want to remember that I have any blessings. I want to feel that I'm the most abused, long suffering human being since Job and have everyone agree with me.

But can I find anyone who will? I can not. As soon as I settle down for my biennial mildew they turn on that joy stuff until I'm positively sunburned.

I admit they mean well. They go to any length to comfort and condole with me. But there's one form of comfort which we're apt to forget and that is the beautiful art of keeping our mouths shut.

No, don't think there's any cynicism in these words. Like every human being, I have known the cruel pain of loss and wept my dark way through it. And yet I know that I was not made to kiss my dear ones farewell and let them go as free and joyfully as they came.

I know this because it has happened to me and it has happened to everyone I know from time to time. But I think we should snap out of it. I think we would be larger, stronger people if we used our Christianity to practical purposes.

It is hard to say goodbye. It leaves your heart in a wretched knot that no one can ever undo. But that's part of life. That's part of growing up and we'll have to take it, pardner, as it comes.

Wages In City, County Near Top, Survey Shows

Mansfield ranks among the first five cities in Ohio in total average weekly wages, C. W. Handley, manager Mansfield office Ohio State Employment Service said today.

The figures were compiled following a survey of payrolls for Ohio's major industrial groups.

"The average hourly wage earnings in Mansfield are considerably higher than the wartime peak of 1944," Handley said, "but hours are shorter and living costs higher."

Richland county also is among in earnings with a total weekly average of $50.44.

Manufacturing leads the industrial groups in the county with a weekly average of $54.79, followed by finance-insurance and real estate with $53.06 and wholesale-the upper six counties of the state retail trade and service trailing at $40.02 and $32.78, respectively.

Guests Judge Personality By Your Living Room

THE living room is the place where the entire family invariably gathers in its leisure hours. The arrangement of furniture in this room is therefore of prime importance.

And the living room is usually considered a pretty accurate guide to the rest of the house—as well as a complete revelation of the hostess's personality!

When a guest enters the living room and finds it attractive and comfortable, she gets a pleasant, favorable impression. The guest may have only seen the living room, but that is where she formed her opinion.

MAXIMUM USEFULNESS

The problem of attaining the maximum usefulness is much more complex in the living room than in any other part of the house. The furniture arrangement can even spell the success or failure of a party. For example, a room in which the chairs and sofas are set far apart from each other and scattered through the room in helter-skelter order will limit conversation.

SIT-DOWN 'WALLFLOWERS'

Persons in isolated chairs tend to remain in solitary confinement when the conversation begins. They become sit-down "wallflowers."

If guests seek to overcome the distance by speaking to each other in subdued shouts, the whole party will become nothing but a disjointed rumble.

When furnishings are placed in cozy groups, however, there is no need to shout to be heard, and no guest will get the feeling he or she is being ignored—if not actually snubbed.

When the homemaker considers that the living room is the measuring stick by which the entire house is judged, the effort spent in properly arranging this room will seem well worthwhile.

If at first you don't succeed—try again! And acquire additional tables and chairs to fill in those unrelated, barren "islands."

Make your living room reflect your own good taste—and you'll win friends and influence people.

This combination of matching love seats, unusual coffee table and gay hearth rug makes a pleasing, though formalized, grouping in front of the mirror-paneled fireplace. It is a striking example of perfect balance.

Poached Fish For One Year Old Kiddies

The time has come to brush up on what's new for baby! And it's an official time—April 24 to May 1 called National Baby Week and devoted to discovering better ways to give those little pink bundles "the right start in life."

This year the care of babies is indeed of paramount interest to many because 1947 rang the bell on the birth rate score—3,900,000 babies were born, almost half a million more than the previous record made in 1946.

So let's catch up on the most recent findings of eminent child psychologists. They say give baby lots of love and cuddling—he needs it as much as he does his vitamins. And they also sanction the "self-demand" feeding technique where baby tells you when he is hungry and then you set up his routine accordingly. And there's no more mealtime monotony for today's babies—nor tedious cooking-and-mashing routine for his mother. Baby foods by the dozens come in jars and cans all ready to be warmed and set before his or her highness.

Pediatricians and medical authorities agree, too, that one-year-olds can and should have strained meat and mashed poached fish—both excellent protein sources. The meat can be bought packaged, and the fish can be made in family size—a little served to baby, the rest served with a spicy sauce or in a salad to the delight of the rest of the family. And in case you've never poached fish, here's how it's done:

POACHED FISH

¼ cup shopped celery, ¼ cup chopped carrot, 2 quarts water, 3 pounds fish.

Add vegetable to water, cover and bring to boiling point. Boil 15 minutes. Wash fish and wipe with cloth. Tie fish in cheesecloth or cloth bag, place in water, and simmer 30 to 35 minutes, until fish flakes when tried with a fork. Remove from cheesecloth or cloth bag and drain.

For fish salad: combine 2 cups flaked fish with ½ cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons diced green pepper, a little salt and ½ cup mayonnaise. Mix well, taking care not to break fish into too small pieces. Chill and serve on lettuce.

Horoscope

Wednesday, April 28

ACUMEN, shrewd insight, bright ideas and clever manipulation of the promising situation could catapult aims and objectives of high consequence. But a quick grasp of the importance of a sudden change at this critical juncture, could open "new highs" of constructive and creative ability. Fast thinking and swift changes could bring surprising achievement, although a dash of subtlety, intrigue, or secret agreements might serve. But in this, consider all angles.

Those whose birthday it is have augury of a year of excellent promise for distinctly constructive and progressive accomplishment, with rapid promotion recognition of talent, skill and "sure fire" thinking, in which superiors are standing by to celebrate, reward, and furnish ways and means for ambitious objectives, even though there be need for swift change of plans, ideas or techniques. An undertone of the secret or subtle in making agreements, might not be too dangerous, but pause for reflection before taking any fatal jump. The outcome holds some promise of purely personal involvement or perhaps allure.

A child born on this day has brilliant equipment for notable, distinguished and constructive work, with bright mentality, keen insight as well as hidden powers for success and honors.

Those dark circles under the eyes will look less noticeable if you practice this simple trick. Blend a tiny amount of cream rouge under your eyes, then cover lightly with powder. By bringing back some of the natural warm skin tones, you'll find the hollows are less obvious.

Outdoor Dining Can Be Cool For the Cook, Too

The moment the weather turns mild, the homemaker looks outdoors to find a corner for outdoor dining. Any space from a terraced garden to a tiny back yard can be transformed into a charming retreat for luncheon or dinner away from the heat of a summer's day.

A retreat for everyone except the cook, that is—unless she has planned her outdoor meals for a minimum of fuss and bother. Here are some tips culled from the Summer issue of Mademoiselle's LIVING, the magazine for young homemakers.

First, set up as near the kitchen as possible. Keep everything on your outdoor table pale and cool-looking, and use your gayest pottery. Flowers on the table are a must!

Fill your ice-bucket and bring it outdoors. Its clear gleam, and the gleam of your table silver and of huge glasses filled with iced white wine or sparkling water will make you cool just to look at them.

And here's the big secret for cool and unruffled outdoor serving: use trays —one per person. Trays not only keep everything in one place, without juggling, but mean only one trip per person.

All this should whet your appetite for a hot day in which you can show how cool and collected you can be. Ideal for the summer outdoor meal are cool dishes—platters of sliced turkey, smoked salmon, tongue-rolls with Italian cream cheese and chives, tossed salad (make one of avocado and tomato wedges with dressing, tiny green onions, buttered rolls, lemon meringue pie.

And if you're feeding a male who thinks that food is filling only if it's hot, here's a hot dish that can go with the rest of the meal—a casseroie of pasta and baby French peas:

Fry 2 buds of garlic, finely cut up, in 3 tablespoons of olive oil. Add salt. Cook a pound of sea shell-shaped pasta in boiling water for ten minutes. Drain, and place in a hot, buttered casserole. Pour olive oil and garlic over the pasta. Add one can of baby French peas, heated and drained. If you're in the mood, you can cover with strips of fried bacon—or add chopped-up ham. Cover casserole dish; keep in warm oven until ready to serve.

Here's a good way to wake up a lazy complexion. Cover your face and neck with mineral oil or a light cleansing cream. Then scour your face with ordinary kitchen salt for one minute. This is an excellent beauty treatment which stimulates circulation and removes dead flaky skin particles.

Atomic Labor—First of a Series

Officials Strive to Avert Stoppages

By MAX HALL, AP Labor Reporter

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Without hubbub or headlines, groups of men in Washington are struggling with the baffling problem of labor relations in atomic energy plants.

Fifty thousand work in and around these plants. They work for private companies, though the plants are owned by the government.

The companies and the workers haven't proved they can settle their disputes without work stoppages. This is the heart of the problem.

The U. S. Atomic Energy commission is urgently searching for a solution with the help of AFL, CIO, and management leaders.

Meetings are being held almost every day.

★

David Lilienthal, the commission's chairman, has told congress that work stoppages must be avoided, either by voluntary agreement or "force of law."

The joint congressional committee on atomic energy is standing by to see whether there will be voluntary agreement on and overall plan. The congressmen are ready to recommend a new law if necessary, but don't know whether it's necessary, or what kind of law would be effective.

The Lilienthal commission wants an overall labor policy—agreed to by the unions and the employers—that would do three things at the same time:

(1) Assure continuous operations.

(2) Draw the best kind of workers and managers into the atomic industry and keep their morale high.

(3) Assure that not only the employes, but also their union officials outside the plants, will be loyal to the U. S.

This loyalty angle may be a big headache of the future.

★

The great problem of the moment is "continuity of operations." If possible the government would like to achieve this without interfering with the rights of labor and the efficiency of management. That explains the emphasis being put on voluntary agreement rather than compulsion.

Leaders of the AFL, the CIO and the government are agreed that strikes in atomic plants are "unthinkable."

Yet strikes are possible under the present system. And twice the country has moved near an atomic strike at Oak Ridge, Tenn. It took a federal court order to block an AFL strike March 19.

The Taft-Hartley act outlaws strikes by government employes. But atomic plant workers aren't government employes. They work for Carbide & Carbon Chemicals corporation, General Electric, the University of Chicago, and other employers that have atomic contracts with the U. S.

The 50,200 employes are divided this way: 20,400 are at Oak Ridge; 17,900 are at Hanford, Wash.; 11,900 at Chicago, Los Alamos, N. M., Schenectady, N. Y., and other places.

Some of the employes are scientists and supervisors, who don't belong to the unions in the atomic plants. But unions are assuming more and more importance.

Ohioans Oppose End to Oleo Tax

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Ohio congressional delegation by a vote of 10 to 9, yesterday opposed the motion to force a vote on proposed repeal of federal taxes on colored oleomargarine.

The House, however, adopted the motion, thus virtually assuring subsequent House approval of the repeal proposal.

The 10 Ohioans, all Republicans, who voted against the motion, were Brown, Burke, Carson, Clevenger, Brehm, Griffiths, Lewis, McCullough, McGregor, and Weichel.

Republicans for the motion were Bender, Elston, Hess, Ramey and Vorys.

Democrats for the motion were Crosser, Feighan, Huber and Kirwan. Absent were Bolton, Jenkins, McCowen, and Smith.

Last Toll Bridges Due to Be Freed

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(AP)— All state-owned bridges will be freed of tolls within the next seven years. Only three projects, all purchased in 1941, still are subject to tolls, the current issue of West Virginia Highways says.

They are the Silver bridge over the Ohio river at Point Pleasant; the Market street bridge over the Ohio at Steubenville, and four bridges at Wheeling linked into a single project.

Americans are using about 582 gallons of oil products a year per capita on the average.
